The Transition

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and we come to you at this wonderful and most glorious time as you continue moving deeper within your heart space. You are opening to the greatness of self, the wonderment of self, the perfectness of self and the all-encompassing we-ness of self. You are opening to depths of your heart space you have never known before. In the time/space continuum in your third dimension outside of you, universal energetic patterns are now opening as you reach the end of your first four months of 2013. You have moved through a cleansing and clearing process as We said to you in our overview or outlook for your year of 2013. As you move into the heart of 2013, the next four months, will be the transition process into full We Consciousness.

We harken back to your 12/21/12 where a portal, a doorway, opened for you to step into we consciousness and release the remnants of the narcissism of the me. For many of you it was to raise your consciousness to the narcissism of the me where everything is about me. Many of you are choosing to move into a new world of community, harmony and equality as the light worker and way shower and move into we consciousness of that and we consciousness within the self. This is where you are an all encompassing self and fully honor, value and love yourself, your talents and gifts and connecting with your life's purpose to complete your mission that your soul fragment has dutifully incarnated itself in this third dimensional realm. Many of you are opening up to this fact and some of you are living this fact.

We are coming to you at this wonderful and most glorious time as you move into the transition period, the heart of your year of 2013. So We ask you, can you see up to this point in time what you have released in your life and where you have grown within you and your relationships? Where are you energetically in your physical being-ness? Where is your resonance and vibration at this point in time? Is it at a high vibration? Are you still consumed with drama and glamour? Are you still consumed with aspects of your life that hold you in the old habits, patterns and rituals? Are you consumed with old-ness in your life? Are you consumed with what is transpiring in your third dimensional realm outside of you that raises the issues to be released?

You are moving into a great depth of the truth and essence of you. By looking at what you have been conditioned to believe though what is transpiring in your third dimension and the myth and illusions of it, you can see how you are consumed by the myths and illusions of that and within you. These are the myths and illusions that pertain to your relationships outside of you. So We ask you, in this period of time, the first four months of 2013, what have you released so you can raise your resonance and vibration and move into the heart of 2013, the transition period? This is the next four months that will bring you to the last four months that will move you into the full fruition of We Consciousness.

We ask you:

Where does drama and glamour still persist in your life?

Where are you creating drama and glamour in your life that makes you feel alive?

What you are doing as you move through your personal process is releasing the old entrainment of the nervous system. For many of you, your nervous system has been entrained through drama and glamour. Your nervous system is thus titillated when you look outside of you and gives your life meaning. As you move through your personal process you move to a place of neutrality. In this place, you are neutral, grounded and centered with what is transpiring in your life and using your "spiritual" principles, your "spiritual" tools, your "spirituality" you say encompasses you. Yet this may allude you through your old conditioning and what you believe that is fraught with drama and glamour. Where are you within all of this? It is time to move into neutrality.

We ask you:

Are you looking outside of you to get something that will make you feel alive?

Are you looking outside of you to get a feeling?

What are you doing when you look outside of you?

What are you looking to get outside of you that you may not think already resides within you?

Are you continually looking outside of you to create drama and glamour around you in relationships?

We Consciousness begins within you. It is inside of you. In order to move into we consciousness in relationship with others, it must reside within you first. We consciousness within is releasing duality within you. This is either/or, right or wrong, good or bad, this or that. As you move within to the depth of the core aspects of you, where are you still creating myth and illusion outside of you that is based upon the conditioning that you have learned most likely, from mom and dad?

You are moving through a period of self introspection. In order for you to move forward in your year of 2013 on the path of the light worker and way shower to create a new world of community, harmony and equality outside of you, first move within you in authenticity, transparency and truthfulness. Look at your relationships outside of you. The reason We ask you to do this is because it is these relationships that are a mirror for the relationship you are having with yourself. If you cannot see it within you, the only way for most of you to see it is for it to be mirrored back to you by others. Are you open to see what is mirrored back to you by others? Look at the relationships in your life right now and ask yourself, can I see me in those relationships? Am I open to see me when others present me to me? Am I open to see the mirror outside of me?

Joy and Ease

As you have moved to the end of your first four months of 2013 a doorway, a new portal will open. We have said to you many times, it is not you who will be opening the doorway. As you walk on the pathway into the unknown being who you are, We ask you, are you fully being who you are? Do you know who you are? Do you love, honor and value you? If you do, you will then see this mirrored back to you in your relationships with others. As you walk on the pathway into the unknown, doorways, portals, gateways will automatically, organically and naturally open for you. The question is, are you fully available emotionally, spiritually, physically and mentally to walk through the doorway? Can you walk through it in the full being-ness of self with your tools, knowing your purpose and your mission? As you walk on that pathway you can connect with those who resonate and vibrate at a similar, if not the same level as you who have a similar purpose and mission in this lifetime. Allow yourself to move on that pathway with joy and ease. The operative term here is "ease". Is there ease in your life? Or are you conditioned in your nervous system through the mental body that everything is challenging? Where do you create the challenges? Where do you create the dis-ease outside of you so it will match the dis-ease inside of you? Thus creating drama and glamour that surrounds your entire being-ness. If the drama and glamour persists in the being-ness of you then your conditioning arises and it titillates your nervous system to make you feel alive. Dis-ease makes you feel alive. Where does this exist in your life? Does dis-ease reside in your life? Thus stimulating the old conditioning, the old habits, patterns and rituals and you feel alive. In your mental body you may understand the concept of joy and ease but are you living your life with joy and ease? The only way you can move into this transitional period in the next four months is to become aware and conscious of this.

Authenticity, Transparency and Truth

As you take the next step into we consciousness, fully giving your talents and gifts outside of you, your modalities, your healing practices, it must be done with full authenticity and transparency and truth. It is not about fixing you, it is about becoming aware within you of what persists and exists of the old conditioning, the old habits, patterns and rituals. So We ask you, where are you creating the stimulus outside of you so everything will feel alive and the nervous system will be titillated?

Where is this persisting in your life and of your creation? When you are in neutrality you are in ease on your pathway. When you move deeper within to the core essence of you, you are raising the level of resonance and vibration.

So We ask you to move within. See your level of resonance and vibration. Is your life fraught with drama and glamour? Where is your life fraught with drama and glamour? And how does this make you feel? Where does your resonance move to you when We utter the words, drama and glamour? When we utter the words, neutrality, ease, joy, where does your vibration move? Drama, glamour. Joy, ease, neutrality. It is time to become aware and conscious as to what you are perpetrating outside of you in your blind spot, in your unconscious mind that will hold the old in place. This is what you know and comfortable with. Our teachings, lessons and messages deal with the personal process that will move you out of your comfort zones. Where are you comfortable though you make not like it? You may say you don't like it yet you are in it and creating it because it is familiar to you. Where does drama, glamour still exist? Where does judgment and shame of self still exist? We are asking these universal questions as a preamble to the next four months in your year 2013.

It is time to keenly and acutely raise your consciousness and awareness to your old behaviors. Are you open in the depth and breadth of your heart space to look at the mirror, to see the mirror and open when others see you in your blind spot? They come from a high vibration to point out your blind spot. Within this can you move to community, harmony and equality and intimacy with another? As you move through your personal process you move to a greater level of intimacy with yourself. Are you open to fully see you? Are you open in your heart space when another comes to you to easily point out your blind spot and your old behavior? Many as they move through the depths of their wounding in the healing process, the blind spots will become more dominant because you are moving through the unconscious mind. Your conditioning is a "mythical" reality that you have been perpetrating in your life. It is something you are used to perpetrating, yet may not know you are perpetrating it because it is in the unconscious mind.

The teachings, lessons, messages and exercises that emanate from this specific frequency of the Archangelic realm of Michael, are geared to raise your awareness and consciousness of self. It is not about fixing or getting rid of anything. You are not right, you are not wrong, you are not this, you are not that. You are you dear ones, the full being-ness of you. Can you explore that being-ness through the mirror? Can you explore being-ness and open to the greatness and the powerfulness of you? It is time to put the finishing touches on this as you move to the next four months in 2013.

We leave you with this. Do you fully love, honor and value you? Do you fully love, honor and value your talents and gifts? What do you need dear ones, what do you need?
