Walking the New Path*

The gates to the new pathway into the unknown have opened and you are now moving deeper onto it. Many of you have made decisions and choices about creating a new life, changing yourself and releasing old habits patterns and rituals and releasing your attachments to the old. Many of you have asked yourself, does the old resonate for me? And you may have come to the decision that it no longer does. The gates to the new have opened and going back into the old is no longer a viable choice unless you want to recreate it.

If you have made the decision to walk amongst the energies of the new and you are continuing to release the old, your physical body may be reacting to that. You may be experiencing physical symptoms and quite possibly walking through a shadow period. It is as if a chemical reaction is being created within your physical body. What We mean by this is, as you walk into the new the chemicals of these new energies are now mixing with the old energies or the chemicals inside of you. And this mixture for some becomes quite volatile. The old within you is now coming to the fore and deep rooted repressed and suppressed feelings and trauma are surfacing and you now may be finding that you are no longer able to control anything. It is time to completely surrendering to this and allow yourself to feel your feelings. Begin to see "what is" in your life as opposed to what you think isn't. This is most important now.

Ask yourself, Where am I? It is now about living your life moment-to-moment and being in the now consistently. Where am I? What is in my life? Continue asking yourself these questions as continue to release the old and create a new life for yourself. Write down what comes to you.

Many of you may be feeling quite anxious and nervous. Some look behind you and wonder how you can jump back into the old. The gates behind you to the old are closing. The gates to the future have opened and the future is written by you. You might be feeling trepidation and not understanding what is transpiring. In the depth and breadth of your heart you are beginning to connect to your soul's divine plan.

As the gates to the old are closing behind you, you are moving to an intersection. This is where you can connect to your soul's divine plan and the new pathway you are on leads to it. Some are further along than others but you are all on this pathway. You are moving out of the old and emerging from it into the new. Look at yourself in the mirror, acknowledge the choices you have made and know that there is no going back. This is why the feelings may become more intense. You may be in resistance to moving forward and towards because you have moved out of deep-rooted comfort zones, the comfort zones of the old, the comfort zones of looking outside of yourself for validation and gratification. This no longer resonates for you because it is non-existent on the pathway into the new.

Nothing outside of you can validate or gratify you any longer and it may frighten some of you. Some may seek, Where can I go to get what I need to get to satisfy my addiction to getting something outside of me? You may now look into the mirror and see nothing. Many look out onto the pathway into the new and see nothing. Nothing is there dear ones, except you. You are know in the unknown.

You are now at a place to see that the well inside of you is full, this is your well of fulfillment. It is within you and not outside of you any longer. The well inside of you is filled with who you are.
