

Archangel Michael
A Weather Report for this Moment in Time
Channeled by Jeff Fasano

From the Archangelic realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are opening to new aspects of your life and moving through new passageways.

You are opening up to aspects of you that you may not have known before. Perhaps opening to a new depth of self and when doing this feelings are coming up. You now may be realizing that you have suppressed these feelings and now opening to feel them.

Many of you are moving through deeper aspects of yourself that you have repressed for quite some time. As you open to the truth of you, your authenticity and your essence, you then open to aspects of yourself that you have repressed in the past. Feelings that you have repressed begin to surface as well. All of this is creating new experiences for you. You are opening up aspects of yourself that have never been opened before. Some are moving into your greatness and your power and beginning to own your power and embody your greatness.

As you set your intentions to move within, you move into all the repressed aspects of yourself that then come to the surface as well as all the repressed and suppressed feelings. Many who are moving from the old to the new are moving through this passageway and moving through the shadow aspects of the self. In this place you then begin to release the core of your wounding.

Many of you are moving through new experiences that you may not have experienced before and may be wondering what is transpiring in your life now. You may be saying now, "Michael I have never felt this before. I have never felt these feelings. I am not quite sure what is happening."

What is happening is you are opening up to the new you and now moving to your core and releasing old repressed aspects of self and old suppressed and repressed feelings that come along with this. And with this energy moves throughout your body.

For some you are moving through a cleansing and clearing period in your soul's divine plan. And it is important to raise your awareness and consciousness to what is happening. Begin to feel your feelings and the depth of them to experience old trauma. There is old trauma coming up as well for many of you, old trauma that has been repressed.

You are moving through opening all the aspects of the repressed self in this moment in time. Many may be feeling that you are repeating the old as you move through aspects of the old and thus realizing that this no longer serves you.

As you move deeper within the depth and breadth of your heart space to connect with the depth and breadth of you and release your wounding and what is being revealed, you are gaining more clarity regarding your old behaviors. As you see the old behaviors you may be seeing yourself perpetrate them and then realize they no longer serve you and your highest good. Perhaps you are seeing old behaviors of struggling to survive life, fighting deprivation, lack and limitation. These are the old behaviors that keep your habits, patterns and rituals in place.

Some are now experiencing a new realization of the self if in fact it has been your intention to move within to the depth and breadth of the core of you. Or for some, everything still resides in your mental body and you are wondering and trying to figure everything out. As you utilize this old habit and behavior of trying to figure everything out, unbeknownst to you this is a behavior used to avoid you.

By moving into the mental body and trying to figure out what is transpiring, you are utilizing this to avoid your feelings and avoid yourself and avoid the experience of what is happening in this very moment in time.
