A Month of the Revelation of You

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and we come to you as you are moving into a new parameter in your life. You have now moved through your first three months of 2017, observed what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm and see the upheaval that has been created in the macrocosm and possibly in relationships you are having with others. It is now time to move back to basics in your new month of April.

As you have observed what has transpired outside of yourself during the first three months of 2017, this quite possibly has created a great upheaval within you. You might be trying to balance reality from fiction, reality from illusion and what your perception of reality is. It is time to move back within and back to basics. Meaning, moving back into the depth and breadth of your heart space and look at what is transpiring in your life now. We have given you many tools to utilize in your relationship with the outer third dimensional realm and the upheaval that is transpiring out there.

As you move into your month of April the question We have for you is; What has been revealed to you in relationship to your truth? Your year of 2017 is about living in the depth and breadth of your truth, fully expressing it and moving into the beingness of it. We ask you; As you observe what is transpiring outside of you in the third dimensional realm, what is transpiring within you in accordance with your truth? Has the core of your truth been revealed? Quite possibly what is transpiring outside of you is triggering your nervous system and has upset you and clouded your truth?

Look now at your truth in this month of April. What is the depth and breadth of it? What is transpiring in your life that has given you a new perspective of life? Are you closer to your truth? What has shifted and changed in your life that has revealed more of your truth and the essence of who you are? Where has your illusion been illuminated that has revealed what is true to you and your life? Many have faced an upheaval in their lives and now looking at their life. We now ask you to look at your truth. What is your truth? What is your way of life? Are you moving to a deeper sense of community, harmony and equality and peace within yourself?

As you move into your fourth month of April look at your truth and make a list.

What is your truth? Write it down. Not what you believe yourself to be. What is being revealed for those who are continuing on a path of self-mastery on their soul's journey of moving within, is the realization of your truth. What is this truth and are you fully expressing it? Are you fully expressing the beingness of you? The full expression of your beingness coincides with your truth.

Do you still move outside of you clouded or shrouded in your mask? Are you trying to please others? Are you trying to fit in outside of yourself? Or are you moving to the full beingness of you?

It is so important now to begin to look at your truth and the realization of it. As you move onward through 2017 you will move deeper within your truth. Ask yourself; Have I been distracted by what is transpiring outside of me and perhaps distracted from my inner journey? Where is the main focus of my life? Is it on what is transpiring outside of me? Or what is moving within the depth and breadth of my heart space? Look at where your focus is. Is it on what is transpiring outside of you? Or is it on your inner journey so you can grow deeper into the depth and breadth of who you are?

This brings up another question concerning the human condition. As you see the realization of what is transpiring outside of you and see the illusion that has been construed; how has this affected your human condition? You are seeing now "non truth" and how this is continually reinforced. This may be a test for you now. By asking the question, does this resonate or doesn't it, can move you into your truth and into a greater depth of your intuition. Thus moving you to honor and value your intuition from the inside out.

Are you moving into relationship with those who are on a continuous inner journey? Are you opening your heart space to others? What may be transpiring in your life that could be altering your pathway in life? Quite possibly altering your perception of life and the way you live your life? For many what is important has changed.

From the beginning of 2017 things have transpired in your life that may have altered what is important to you. There have been changes in aspects of your life that you are now moving through that are altering what is important to you. Quite possibly revealing a new pathway, purpose or truth in your life. There are many aspects of your life that are being revealed right now and this is what your month of April is about. Look at the new aspects of your life and those aspects that are more important now than what you thought were during the first three months of 2017. It is always important to keep an eye on what is transpiring in the world outside of you to see how you can affect it.

Many are shifting and changing in their physical beingness. As you move deeper within the depth and breadth of your heart space into a greater depth of your truth you can see how what is transpiring outside of you is altering you. What is transpiring for many as the old breaks down, is a complete alteration of the molecular structure of the physical body. What is transpiring outside of you in the third dimensional realm is a break down of the old. Happenstance in your life outside of you is breaking down the old structure, the old myths, the old illusions you quite possibly have had about life.

By looking outside of you in the macrocosm at your governmental systems, your corporate systems and your political systems in the first three months of your year, you are seeing how the old is perpetuated. You are seeing how the ego defense perpetuates the old and “fights to the death” to keep the old alive. This is what you are observing in the world outside of you, the fight to perpetuate the old. See this dear ones. See what is transpiring outside of you in the macrocosm and how those in your governmental, political and corporate systems are “fighting to the death” to keep the old in place. Utilizing any aspect they can to “fight to the death” to keep it in place and possibly recreate the old.

As you look outside of you at the macrocosm, where might you be “fighting to the death” to keep the old in place, the old habits, patterns and rituals? Or can you utilize the mirror of what is transpiring outside of you and see yourself quite possibly perpetuating old habits, patterns and rituals? This is what is happening in the world outside of you and you are seeing truth and un-truth revealed. There are many outside of you in the macrocosm searching for the truth even though they know what that truth is. As you are searching for your truth move within into the microcosm of you and reveal that truth to you because you already know it.

As you move into your month of April, you are beginning to define your truth. What is your truth? You will continue in April to move on this pathway and it will deepen. You will quite possibly move to deeper levels within you that you have never moved to before if you are on a committed process of self-mastery. You will be revealing aspects of yourself that you never thought you could reveal. You will be healing old aspects of the self, and healing deep old wounds. This will allow you to renew yourself to a new-ness of you.

Your first three months of 2017 was a period of time of releasing the old. Allowing the old to die. You are now moving into a specific period on your earthly plain where you will begin to flourish and blossom. This is the time to bring your truth to the fore and allow a new you to emerge as aspects of your life die. Old habits, patterns and wounds come to an end. Many are mourning aspects of their life. Many are grieving.

As you look at the world outside of you in the macrocosm and see how un-truths are being perpetuated and how the old ego defense perpetuates the fight to keep the old in place, and seeing the in-fighting, ask yourself; Does this resonate or doesn't it? Am I continuing this within me?

Your month of April is a month of revelation, a revelation of you. A revelation of the depth of you that you never realized you could go to yet still survive to be alive to live a new abundant life in 2017.
