

Archangel Michael Speaks

A Message for June 2017

A Doorway into the Unknown

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We welcome you as you move into your new month of June, arriving at the mid point of 2017. You are now quite possibly moving to a new depth of self, a new creation of self, a new powerfulness of self. Your month of June is about stepping into and standing in the powerfulness of you.

We now ask you to look at the previous five months and review what has transpired in your life because much has. Many have gone through great shifts and changes, moving deeper within and looking at relationships.

Begin now in this month of June to look at your relationship with self and the relationship you are having with what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm outside of you at this moment in time. See what has shifted and changed within you since the beginning of 2017 in relationship to what is transpiring in your world outside of you. Are you reacting or responding to what is transpiring outside of you? Are you utilizing the tools We have given you in these last few months relating to what is transpiring in the world outside?

The year of 2017 is about moving into the depth and breadth of the truth of self so you can stand in the powerfulness of your truth and begin to express it to the world outside of you. As you begin to do this you can see how this shifts your life. Look now to see if you are standing in the powerfulness of your truth and speaking that truth. If so, see if this is shifting and changing your life as you move into yourself and “coming into your own”. What has transpired in your life up until this very moment?

This month of June is the beginning of you standing in the powerfulness of you. As We move you through this month, open your heart space and look at your relationships. What relationships are you having? Look at the life you say you want. As you have moved through this year, what has transpired and what are your relationships like? What is the relationship you are having with you like?

It is time to look at your life as opposed to “scrutinizing” your life. Are you celebrating your life? Are you moving to a place of celebration the self? Are you moving to honoring and valuing you more deeply? Are you beginning to speak your truth?

As you look at what is transpiring in the world outside of you, see how that is affecting you if it is at all. See if you have shifted the way you perceive what is transpiring outside of you. Is it affecting you? There is great change occurring in your world and this still triggers many. Is there a fight inside of you in relationship to what is transpiring outside of you and in relationships with others?

You are moving through a period where there is a fight to be right. This is the fight that is transpiring in the world outside of you. It is a continuous fight to be right and be loved. A way you can look at what is transpiring outside of you is to see it through the defense systems. If you see the core defense system for what it is, this will give you a perspective of what is transpiring in the world. There is a fight to be right and a fight to hold the old in place, the good old world of form.

This fight is continuing in the world outside of you. It is the nervous system fighting at all costs to keep the old in place. Fighting to keep the old comfort zones in place. Fighting to try to control everything. As you look at what is transpiring outside of you in the macrocosm, in the governmental, political, corporate systems, there is a continuation of this fight. Many also continue to move to a place where they suppress and repress their feelings. See what is different outside of you and ask, how does this make me feel?

As you move through June it is still a process and commitment to move within and feel your feelings and be with them. Look to the core of where these feelings come from. It is time to take another step deeper within to the origin of your wounds. As you look at the world outside of you through the eyes of the defense system what is triggered are your core wounds and the defense system itself.

Are you fighting to be right?
Are you finding a need to fight?

If you are triggered by what is happening outside of you, are you reacting to it with a need to oppose it and fight it? Do you continue to fight what is transpiring outside of you? Is this also happening in the relationships you are having on a personal level? In those relationships, are you fighting to keep the old alive? Are you fighting to keep duality, separation and isolation alive? See now if you are fighting to keep the old live in your life? See if you are fighting to remain in your comfort zones? See if you are fighting to keep the old in place where you are comfortable even though change is necessary.

Many are facing change and many are resisting it.
Are you resisting change?

If you are taking a look at your life on a daily basis, where might you see where change is necessary? Do you oppose this change? Might you be repressing your need for change?

If you are looking at your life now and see aspects of your life that no longer resonate for you and work for you and know that change is necessary, and you make the choice of change you will be taking a step into the unknown. June is a doorway into the unknown. The reason why We ask you these questions is so you can see that change is happening. Change is imminent. Change is coming.

Be aware that what is transpiring in the world outside of you is a fight to keep the old in place. It is a fight to remain in comfort zones. It is fight to continue opposition, and keep isolation, separation and duality in place. It is most important now to be aware of what is transpiring in your life. Raise your consciousness and awareness that change is imminent and on the horizon. It is a change of the tyrannical oppression that is transpiring in the world outside of you. Where are you being oppressed? Where are you in the depth and breadth of your heart space being oppressed? Where are you oppressing yourself? Where are you holding yourself back from change that will shift your life forever?

As you move into the second half of your year doorways will open. New doorways will begin to open if you are ready to look into the mirror. We ask you to take a look in the mirror. Look at what is transpiring outside of you and look at yourself. Look at the most intimate relationships you are having with others and look at yourself. Are you open for change? Are you open to look in the mirror? As you open your heart space to others, are you open to see that you will begin to create community, harmony, equality and intimacy?

Is it intimacy you are looking for?

Is peace, community, harmony and equality what you are looking for?

June is a doorway, a doorway that will open for each and every one of you if you so choose it. If so, it will begin to create a new collective consciousness. Begin releasing attachments to the third dimensional world of form. Look outside of you, see what is transpiring, allow it to affect you, allow it to trigger the deep rooted oppressed and repressed feelings inside of you. Quite possibly bringing up memories from mom and dad. See how it is affecting you and ask, am I fighting it or am I ready to shift and change my response and reaction to it? You can respond in a constructive fashion as opposed to fighting what is transpiring because the resistance and fight will keep it alive.

We asked you to look at what is transpiring outside of you through the knowledge of the defense system and the nervous system, knowing the mechanizations of both. If you do this you can see more clearly, more defined and possibly more neutral at what is transpiring outside of you. Utilize these tools to begin to look at personal relationships with others. With the knowledge of the defense system and the nervous system you can look at relationships with more neutrality and subjectively based upon the deep self introspection that you have committed to on the path to self mastery.

It is time to move through these new open doorways.

So We ask each and every one of you as you begin your month of June, look to see if there are doorways opening for you? Are you aware and conscious that doorways are opening for you? Or are you sitting in a place of comfort? Are you sitting in a place where you know what is transpiring in your life and may not be aware that doorways are opening up for you? Many doorways are opening for you and it is up to you to be aware and conscious that this is happening in relationship to your agenda, to your old habits, patterns and rituals and behaviors.

Doorways are opening. They are magical and lead to places you have never known. They lead to relationships you have never known. Where are you within yourself? Are you ready to leave the old behind? Are you ready to be more conscious that you are living in the old and in old comfort zones? Are you ready to allow what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm to take its course in the divine plan of the universe? Can you use the energetic aspects of the third dimension to shift and change yourself and create a new world for yourself? Are you ready to take the next step to the life you have said you want?
