A New Cycle of Awakening

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are opening up to various new parameters in your life. Many are moving to crossroads, opening to new pathways and seeing new opportunities and some are moving from the shadow into the light.

We have mentioned to you throughout your year of 2017 that from time to time and more often than not, you will be moving through shadow periods. This coincides now with various multi-dimensional, high vibrational energies that are moving into your earthly plain. For those who have committed to a process of doing the inner work and taking an inner journey, the “heroes” journey, your soul journey, these energies will have a strong impact. They will move you into the depth and breadth of your heart space to fully clear what needs to so you can move into the depth of your truth.

As you move into the month of July, there is an inordinate amount of multi-dimensional energy moving into your planetary system as well as your earthly plain. This will begin a clearing process, for some a final clearing process. It will be for some a final awakening into the depth of your truth.

You have moved on to the second half of your year 2017 and what is beginning now is a cycle of awakening, clearing and cleansing. For those who have committed to a personal process this will have a greater impact than those who haven't. Within our teachings called the Five Agreements, there is an agreement to commit to a personal process and making that agreement with yourself. We ask you to look at that.

What is transpiring now is a deluge of multi-dimensional energy moving into your earthly plain. Many are beginning to feel the effects of this. The energies move in through your crown chakra in a clock-wise fashion down through to your first or root chakra. These energies will move in on a continuous basis and will bring up old memories, old conditioning, behaviors, that will awaken you to what is happening within you. As this happens many are moving through shadow periods.

Through the months of July, August and September as these energies move in on a consistent basis, you will move through a series of shadow processes. This will dredge up old wounding, old habits, patterns and rituals, and old behaviors and move you into an awakening period. The next three months, July, August and September, is an awakening cycle. Awakening to the depth and breadth of who you truly are, why you truly are here, what your purpose and mission in this lifetime is, and your truth. Within this cycle you will awaken to a great depth of clarity about you and why you are here.

Many now are moving through a period of unrest, questioning meaning, value and purpose about who they are and why they are here and what their mission is. You are moving through a shadow period or a period of un-clarity. If you are on a pathway of self mastery and taking the soul's journey, releasing depths of wounding, old memory and conditioning, you are in effect releasing your attachments to the third dimensional world of form.

If you are looking outside of you to bring you meaning value and purpose, you will get it based upon your relationships and what is transpiring in the third dimensional world outside of you. Are you seeking to be loved? Are you looking outside of you to give you something, a feeling perhaps? Are you looking outside of you to awaken you to something or someone that will bring you love?

This three month clearing and cleansing cycle that is beginning now, will allow you to release your attachments to the third dimensional realm and release your attachments to your relationships as well. Doing this will move you into a full standing, multi-dimensional being who no longer needs to rely on anything outside of them. Thus moving into the truth and being a fully contained and sustained being on a multi-dimensional basis where you no longer need to look outside of you to get something that will prove you are worthy.

During this period you will be detaching yourself from the third dimensional realm and the old world of form. Your month of July begins this process. Many are feeling these energies moving in that will help you "kick start" this process. Many are feeling deep rooted suppressed and repressed feelings. Many are feeling anger, deep sadness, and empty within themselves as if there is a void inside. Some then look outside to fill that void. Those who are on a committed personal journey within may be trying this old behavior and realizing that this behavior is fruitless. It is in this process where many become disillusioned and unsure as to what to do. In this three month period We will come to you with various teachings and exercises to move you back within and be with what is transpiring.

Through acceptance and compassion be where you are. You don't always need to know everything. What you need to know is you. What you need to know is to be aware of what is transpiring. What you need to know is you are beginning a three month cycle of releasing your attachments to the third dimensional world of form outside of you that no longer serve your higher journey, your higher purpose and your truth of who you are.

It is time to release the drama, glamour and illusion of the third dimensional realm outside of you that may divert your course and your soul's plan. Thus becoming subservient to what is transpiring outside of you. What we will bring to you will allow you to see how what is transpiring in the macrocosm outside of you mirrors what is transpiring in the microcosm of your personal life. You will be able to look at your personal relationships to see if you need them to give you something or get something from them to fill up a void within you. What is stirring now are the wounds of the wounded child. Thus, many look outside of themselves for mom and dad. Asking, help me, love me, nurture me, sustain my life.

When you look at what is transpiring outside of you in the world, zoom in and see that you may be looking outside of yourself for the answers. The wounded child is looking to mom and dad for the answers and many who are moving through this process are searching outside of themselves. Simply be aware of this. What is most important in this three month cycle is to begin to nurture yourself through it. Deep rooted suppressed and repressed feelings will come up, allow the wounded child to express those feelings.

Not only is this three month cycle a period of clarity it is a time to nurture yourself. Release looking outside of you for the answers, ask for what you need and for support and guidance from others. Not only can you begin a clearing and cleansing process in this three month cycle, you can begin to learn how to receive love.

This three month cycle is a cycle of compassion, acceptance, love, clearing and cleansing. It is a cycle of awareness that will bring you to a greater depth of knowing who you are and why you are here as well as gaining greater clarity as to your mission and purpose in this lifetime.
