

Archangel Michael Speaks
A Message for August 2017

The Solar Eclipse and the Inner Journey

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are moving through new parameters in your very existence in the incarnational realm. New energies are moving in that are shifting and changing the molecular structure of the physical body. Those who are moving within and doing the personal process work are beginning to feel shifts and changes in their physical, emotional and mental body. It is a congregation in the heart space. Many are now beginning to find themselves. Meaning many are now beginning to identify with the core being of who they are.

When you moved into your month of July that began a clearing and cleansing process. It began as well a three-month awakening cycle. Thus, many are beginning to awaken to the truth of who they are because they have diligently moved within in a personal process.

Energies continue to move into your earthly plain to disrupt the "Status Quo" and your comfort zones and to get your attention. The period from your July 1st through the end of your month of September is a cycle of awakening. Many now are beginning to awaken and these energies are assisting that awakening along with your commitment to the self, the truth and to uncovering yourself. Without having that commitment to the personal process, to the soul's process on the road to self mastery not much can happen. Without the commitment to the personal process to uncover the depth and breadth of you, it doesn't matter what transpires outside of you. It doesn't matter if 5th, 6th or 7th dimensional energies are moving into your earthly plain, without the commitment to the inner process, the soul's journey, a path of self mastery you will be hard pressed to feel or identify their affect. It is time to make a commitment to look into the mirror and that mirror is you.

So without doing your part, it doesn't matter what transpires outside of you. Yes, multi-dimensional energies are moving into your earthly plain, it is those who are moving within diligently and committed to an inner personal process, who will greatly feel the benefits and the affect of these energies. For those who are meandering their way through life, they might feel a shift but not know what to do with the shift or what the shift is.

As these multi-dimensional energies move into your earthly plain they will enter in a clockwise fashion moving through your crown chakra, down the back of your spine and root into your root or 1st chakra. As your solar eclipse approaches, the energy will shift and move in a counter clockwise fashion to release memory and wounding and trapped energy in the physical body. This will begin a movement from the darkness to the light.

An awakening period will begin at the solar eclipse and continue through your month of September. And now as this approaches it is time to ask yourself; what do I truly want? Many are beginning to have what they want. Many now are willing to face their old habits, patterns, rituals and behaviors. It is also important now to ask; where am I committed? Am I committed to attaching myself to what has transpired in my life outside of me, and possibly attaching yourself to the messages We bring you? Perhaps saying, Michael will tell us what to do.

We suggest to open your heart space and begin to look in the mirror at you. It is time to take responsibility for you. It is time to take responsibility to do your part. We come to you with tools, visions, energies and teachings that can support and guide you on your path. Yet, how deeply are you committed to utilizing the tools, teachings, energies and visions to move within to rediscover and remember the depth of who you are? How deeply committed are you to seeing the mirror and dislodging trapped emotional energy and repressed and suppressed feeling and allowing yourself to have your feelings? How committed are you to move into a process to fully release that which binds you and holds you in the old?

So We ask: what is binding you and holding you in the old?

Do you continually tell your story? Continue to tell the story of victimhood and the story of mom and dad and stay in a place that is comfortable for you. I will continually tell my story and live out that story because it is easier for me to stay in this place of lack, limitation and struggling to survive. Rather, moving through open doorways to shift and change your life. Energetically you are used to the old patterns and the imprint of the old patterns. It is up to you to make a choice and decision to move within and allow the process of life to take care of itself and to have the life you say you want.

Imprints of the old can be released. Imprints of mom and dad can be released. You do this through raising your awareness and consciousness to those imprints. It is about using the tools you are being given to move beyond that and past it. So We ask you; what is important to you? Is it important to continue to tell the story, the saga of your life? Or is it important to move beyond that to transition from it and transform yourself into who you truly are? Your year of 2017 is about moving into your truth and expressing your truth to the world. Quite possibly what you think is your truth is telling the saga and story of your life? Yet, We are quite sure you know better.

As We said energies are moving into your earthly plain in a clockwise fashion. It is important to understand that after your solar eclipse the energies will shift to a counter clockwise fashion that will begin to release the old from your physical, emotional and mental body. It is then you may find yourself in a place of inertia, not quite sure knowing what to do or how to do it. Your reality will shift. You will move from the darkness to the light. All you need to know is you are all you need. You can have what you say you want.

As you move to the midpoint of this three-month cycle that is signified by the solar eclipse, many are moving through the shadow. Many see a glimpse of the life they say they want. The reason this is transpiring for many is because of their commitment to the inner work and facing the challenges that come with it. They are utilizing their tools to move beyond it but more importantly move through it.

Are you asking:

Michael I need to get rid of this how do I do it?

And stating:

Until I get rid of these feelings then I can move into what I say I want.

You are multi-dimensional beings living a multi-dimensional experience. The way to move through what you need to is by first accepting with compassion where you are. We continually ask you; how much do you love you? Do you know what this means? Begin by asking; how much do I love, honor and value me? Do I love, honor and value me enough to give myself the life I say I want? This is a step-by-step process and a most important one.

As you move into your month of August, if you are looking at a life right now that might not resonate for you, or aspects of your life do not, or aspects of relationships no longer resonate for you, ask why? Simply ask; does it resonate for doesn't it? Quite possibly aspects of your life and relationships are comfort zones for you? I am comfortable giving myself away to be loved. I am comfortable striving to be perfect. I am comfortable but I am not quite sure this brings me any joy. As we lay out these scenarios for you ask; am I living the life I say I want? Can I live the life I do want? Ask; what needs to change? Does change excite me? Am I frightened of change?

Since your year of 2017 is about moving into the depth and breadth of your truth and expressing it, you do not need to express it to everyone. This will happen in time. What is most important is to express your truth to you and be bold and brave enough to look into the mirror when challenges come up to challenge your truth. If you are ready to move beyond the life you are leading now it is most important to begin a process to look in the mirror.

As you move through your month of August you will be experiencing an energetic penetration from multi-dimensional realms. These energies are coming in so those who are ready to kick start their life can begin that process. They will upset the comfort zones and what and who no longer serve your highest good. They will also illuminate what resonates and what doesn't.

Most may think that when there is a deep and very strong energetic infusion from multi-dimensional realms they come in to illuminate what is "wrong" with your life. This is just part of it. The energies also illuminate what is in your life and raises your resonance and vibration. They move in to cast a spotlight on what doesn't resonate for you as well as what does. It is not either/or. In your life right now there are aspects of it that do resonate for you and raise your resonance and vibration. Focus on this for this is What Is in your life. The energies will cast a spotlight on what does not resonate for you as well. Can you take a look at this?

It may be challenging to shift the behavior from looking at what isn't in your life to looking at what is in your life and seeing what you have created in your life. This is your power, your foundation. Look now at where your life is full and also see those aspects that no longer resonate for you. What old behaviors do you use to keep what you want at arms length?

The energies moving in will assist in releasing isolation, separation and duality. By constantly looking at what isn't in your life you are living in a place of duality. There are aspects of your life that resonate for you and raise your resonance and vibration. Look now at your life as a full circle and you are in the center of the circle. Celebrate what is in your life and highlight what no longer resonates.

The energies moving in now will upset your comfort zones. They will also highlight what is in your life and We ask you to focus on that. However this may upset your comfort zone. The comfort zone of continually looking at what isn't in your life. This is your saga, continually telling the story of what isn't in your life. Perhaps you can now begin the story with what is in your life and who you've come to be in your life right now. This will allow you to being to come from a place of abundance and can move you to release what no longer serves you and create more of what you say you want.

Your month of August will be quite active, emotionally, mentally and physically. It is most important to look at what is in your life and what you have created. Look at how far you have come from when you began your soul's journey and the movement you have made on the road of self mastery. Self-Mastery is simply raising your awareness and consciousness to you.
