Ending Contracts

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you at this wonderful and most glorious time as you are now moving to a place of self actualization. Many now are moving into a most important place, a defining place, a place of being your self. And now proficiently moving forward to release the attachments you had come into this lifetime with. Many now are moving to a conclusion with many aspects of your life that no longer resonate for you.

You have chosen a path toward Self Mastery and as you move on this path you may find that you are coming to conclusions where relationships are concerned. These conclusions involve the end of contracts. As these contracts with various wonderful and glorious souls in your lifetime come to an end, you may find yourself standing alone in the world. With the conclusion of contracts gateways open on your path that you now can now move through and toward what you say you want. Yet you may feel as if you are in a place called “No Man’s Land”. This varies for everyone and feelings surface quite possibly to a greater depth because you are letting go of attachments to anyone and anything outside of your self.

You are now beginning to own and embody you as you move into a place of knowing who you are and being you.

As contracts expire you may find yourself standing on the pathway alone with deep feelings coming up. As you look at relationships and the attachments to these wonderful and glorious souls, you can begin to see why you had the relationship and entered into the contract. It is very important for you to know that the contract was signed, sealed and delivered prior to your soul’s fragment entering into this 3rd dimensional realm in this lifetime.

The duration of contracts vary from soul to soul. As the contracts end you let go of old paradigms and patterns, yet a myriad of feelings surface and vary from joyousness and love, to despair and anger.

It is time to look at these wonderful and glorious souls and see the contract with them. Take the time to find out what you have learned in these relationships. These relationships are the proxy for the old in your life so look at where your energy now can be best spent now.

What you have learned will allow you to close the contract on your end whether the person knows about the contract or not. It allows you to end the contract energetically. Yet these endings may frighten you. They may move you into the depth and breadth of the silence, a void, perhaps a darkness and you might find there is nothing to hold onto any longer.

A safety net, a security net is no longer feasible in your life. The only safety you have is You. The most important aspect of it all is You.

You can look at the endings as beginnings and taking another step into the unknown because you are honoring and valuing your self. Allow yourself to feel the feelings that you have avoided. Perhaps feelings out of control. It is most important now to see that you have tried to control your destiny in this lifetime, tried to figure it out in the mental body.

It is now time to spread your wings and fly.

Many aspects of your old life are coming to an end. Look at where you are grasping to hold on to it. Look at where you are trying to save the relationship, looking to extend the expiration date on the contract. Look at where you are fighting energetically to stay in the old.
