Beingness

Being who you are is a high vibrational energetic state. It has nothing to do with the human constraints of the physical body but the high vibration energetic aspects within you in your heart.

The old manual of life tells you that you must do, and follow the old pathway that is made up of old dense vibrational energy and coalesce to what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm.

The beingness of you is being in a new high vibrational energetic state and a new level of consciousness. This is the consciousness of your greatness and powerfulness, and your individuality, that comes from love within your heart.

By moving into your beingness you will begin to release an old linear way of being in the third dimensional realm. You will release the need to constantly do, and move into the intuition in the depth of your heart space. This will raise your level of resonance and vibration and lead you to a place of all inclusiveness.

Understand that you will always be doing, but through the high vibration of being who you are and remaining in your truth, you will move to a new level of powerfulness and greatness. It will not be habitual.

There are those who move to this high vibrational place, yet when they move out into the world the importance is placed on rising to a level of success in the third dimension. This emanates from herd consciousness.

It is now about standing in the beingness of you energetically, and move to a higher vibrational level of it. Doing so will allow you to contain your energy in the third dimensional realm and not be of that realm. As you continue to look at what is transpiring in the world outside of you, it is important to be in the higher power energetically of who you are.

As you stand in the knowingness of you and the powerfulness of that, you can then connect in community, harmony and equality with others energetically at a higher vibration.

Loving, peaceful consciousness is rising within many and some are beginning to embody it. There is a power when embodying this consciousness. By simply "being" in this high energetic state and the truth of it you can affect and shift the consciousness of others outside of you.
