

Archangel Michael Speaks Channeled by Jeff Fasano

Moving Into the World in Unity

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We welcome you as you continue to move into the depth and breadth of yourself.

We now ask you to begin to make decisions, decisions that are based upon your highest good and support your highest good. It is time to let go of indulging into drama in your life. Look now into the mirror and ask yourself, "What is important to me?" Begin now to make decisions based on what is important to you and what you say you want.

We come to you now to speak to you about Unity. The unity of you within the whole and how you can move into unison within the whole for the greater good of the whole.

You do this by being self contained, in unity with you and then with all the wonderful and glorious souls around you. You do this by standing individuated, fully embodying the depth and breadth of who you are and containing your energy so the energy of the whole will not adversely affect you. You can now move out into the world as a self contained energetic whole with the depth and breadth of your ideas and the new found aspects of your self, and begin to make decisions based upon what you say you want.

By standing in a place of full recognition of you and seeing all the aspects of you that you accept with compassion, you then can look out at the masses with the same acceptance and compassion. Know that it is not about fitting into the world outside of yourself, it is about galvanizing your path in the world utilizing being who you are. Stand now integrated within your self, individuated, and know that you can choose your path, is not being chosen for you.

It is now time to see where you may indulge yourself into your illusions and the drama of your life and how you may have lost yourself in all of this. Many of you are still in the mindset of continually preparing for what you say you want. Look to see if you find a need to isolate and separate your self from others. Perhaps doing this from a place of superiority where you may think you know more than anyone. Look to see where you may still have attachments to the world outside of you.

As you move out into the world, you can move in unity with those you are choosing to have relationships with. You can be in unison with them because you are of equal value and your importance is equal. You have something to say and what you need to express is important. You can use the tools that you have learned to affect change.

You can now join with others and integrate with them and contain your energy as well. By doing this you now can choose relationships with those outside of yourself as they in turn choose you, and move out into the world in unity, together. Find those relationships and the soul groups that resonate with you and you resonate with them.

You are now making bold decisions and choices as to what is important to you and what you say you want. You are revolutionizing yourself on the trail of possibility and galvanizing the road towards abundance and world service.
