A Message for July 2018
Clarity and Expansion

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We welcome you as you move through episodes and passages of your life and possibly shadow periods. Many are emerging from the shadow or the darkness or an old passageway and moving into a new realization of self in the depth and breadth of their heart space.

You are now moving into your month of July, a month of openings and awakenings. Many now are moving into the awakening at a greater depth of who they are and why they are here. Many are discovering a greater depth of their talents and gifts and modalities.

Your month of July will be a month of great clarity, clarity of self. As you exit the sixth month of your year of 2018 and begin the second half, your month of July is where many will be moving into a greater depth of clarity as to who they are and why they are here.

So, We ask you, where are you within the depth and breadth of knowing who you are, why you are here and knowing what you are giving to the world?

As you move through your month of July, greater depths of clarity will become apparent to you.

It is now about moving into the clarity of the self. Many are moving into a greater depth of clarity of self and a higher level and resonance of the powerfulness and greatness within the self. The clarity is the clarity of who you truly are.

Your year of 2017 was about discovering and remembering your truth. 2018 is moving through month-by-month periods of time to express that truth. The only way in which to express that truth is by moving into a greater depth of loving, honoring and valuing you.

Your month of July is a month of clarity and opening doorways to that clarity. The doorways you will be opening are doorways to your heart space. They are doorways to the self and to loving, honoring and valuing you.

In your month of June many moved through shadow periods or periods of contraction. Your month of July begins a period of expansion and clarity. As the doorway opens to the second half of your year, you are beginning an expansion period. Many are beginning to feel this.

It is important to understand that the expansion is not solely occurring in your outer world of form. This is simply part of it. The expansion is occurring in the depth and breadth of you in the soul space, your heart. When you expand in your heart, you expand to a place of love. You expand to a deeper sense of self love, and love of others. You may expand into a new soul family or a new community, or new relationships.

The expansion begins within you in your heart. And it begins by gaining a greater depth of clarity of what is transpiring in your life and who you are. The clarity is about who you are. Many are moving to a greater depth of clarity as to who they are and why they are here. Doing this leads you to open your heart into an expansion of love and love of self.

As you move through shadow periods, you begin to heal, cleanse and clean the old. The first six months of your year of 2018 was a continuation of a cleansing process. As you moved through your month of June, many experienced shadow periods. We have mentioned to you throughout 2017 and into 2018 that shadow periods would happen more often. As you now move into your month of July into an expansion period, it is about moving into a greater depth of clarity of who you are, your greatness, your talents and gifts and why you are here. This begins in the depth and breadth of your heart space.

As you gain greater depths of clarity, this is when the expansion occurs. It is occurring in your heart space. It is an expansion into all inclusiveness, community, equality, and a greater depth of loving, honoring and valuing you and others. So now, you can express this.

As you gain a greater depth of clarity of yourself and move into the expansion in your heart space, you will find an urge to express this. What you are expressing is a greater depth of your truth. Your truth is love.

As you move through your month of July and become clear as to who you are, opening your heart and expanding, you will find a need to express yourself. You then can begin to express this clarity and expansion of love. As you find this need to express, what will then become apparent to you are your talents and gifts and how to use them and the modalities you have created, to express this expansion of love, who you are, community, harmony, equality, all inclusiveness and oneness.

What is happening is you are moving to a greater depth of oneness within you.

As you move to a greater depth of who you are, you move to a greater depth of oneness within you. As you do this, energy within you gathers in your heart space. As the energy moves and gathers in your heart space, it begins to form a combustible system. This combustible system is the “urge” to express the energy that is gathering in your heart. The energy moves out from your heart in an effervescent flow so you can express yourself. You are connecting to the effervescent white light in the depth and breadth of your heart space, and now finding the urge to express this.

You may ask, “What am I expressing Michael?”
You are expressing love, love of self and who you are.

What may transpire after this is, many will discover the message they are here to bring to the world.

What is that message for you?

What is most important for you?

What is gathering in the depth and breadth of your soul space to express to the world?

If you look at what has transpired in the first six months in your year of 2018, perhaps the depths you have gone to, what you have cleared and what you have learned about you, perhaps now in your month of July you will form your life’s purpose, why you are here, what is most important for you to express, and what is important for you to bring to the world.

Your month of July begins a period of clarity, to gain clarity in the depth of your heart as to who you are and why you are here. When you gain this clarity, you will begin to move into an expansion within the depth and breadth of you. In many ways you will feel yourself physically expand. You will feel the energy moving in your heart space raising your resonance and vibration.

As you move within your heart and peel layers of wounding from around your heart and release the low, dense vibrational energy of the old, the old habits, patterns and rituals, the old wounding of the wounded child, and the old conditioning from mom and dad, you then gain greater clarity as to who you truly are. You are not that wounded child. You are not who mom and dad defined you to be, that was based upon their wounding.

Who you are, is the incarnation of the Christ Consciousness in the depth and breadth of you. You are a vehicle to express the message of the Christ Consciousness that is love, peace, community, harmony, equality and all inclusiveness.

Find what rings in the depth and breadth of your soul space. Find there what is most important for you to express. When you do, you will begin to feel the expansion and the urge to express this expansion. As this happens, move from your mental body and what you think you need to express and simply express. Express how you feel. Express the love in your heart space. Express to the most beloved soul who you are connected with deep in your heart space. Simply express love.
