

Archangel Michael Speaks

Channeled by Jeff Fasano

You are Being the Best of Who You are Right Now!

Do you ask yourself, What am I NOT doing?
Do you say to yourself, I must be doing something wrong!

If so, is time to see what you are doing. If you are looking to shift and change your life, this is a step in that process, shifting from looking at what you think you are not doing to what you are doing and doing this with praise. Look at what you are doing right now to shift and change your life. Look at how your life has shifted and changed from what you have done. Praise yourself for having the courage to move within and open your heart and look at you and your life. It is important now to look at what you are doing. And as you do this see how it shifts your life.

In the conscious and awareness of where you are right now in your life, you are being the best of who you are in this very moment.

There are behaviors you may have developed based upon conditioning that hold you in your old life and focusing on what isn't in your life. Many beat themselves up for what they think they haven't done yet, or what they should be doing. There are voices from the past that say to you, and you continue to hear, "you should be better at this or that. These voices push you to look at what you are not doing in your life, what you haven't accomplished. Quite possibly voices that say, "you will never be good enough." It is important to be aware of this and the feelings that surface. Be with the feelings and allow them. Accept them, for they will reveal where you are in your process.

It is important to know that exactly where you are right now within your consciousness and awareness of self, you ARE being the best you that you can be right now.

Please know that if you are reading this with the desire to move deeper within to learn more about you and love yourself to change your life, it is important to acknowledge this. It is important to see your desire to open your heart because doing so is serving yourself. You are being who you are in the consciousness of where you are in your life now. By seeking to shift and change your life to fulfill your life's purpose, praise yourself. Move within your heart and commend yourself for opening your heart to know you more deeply and move through the process.
