Recognizing the Truth of Your Beingness

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We welcome you as you move through aspects and episodes of your life and open to your greatness and greater depths in your heart space. You are moving into great depths of compassion in your heart for yourself and others. You may be looking at your life in a different way as you continue to move deeper into the beingness of the self and deeper into loving, honoring and valuing you.

As you move now into your month of September, it is time to truly see where you are being who you are. In many ways, it is now time for truth in the depth and breadth of your heart. As you moved through your year of 2017, rediscovering and remembering your truth, what is your truth right now? What is your truth in relationship to who you are? Do you fully know who you are? Are you fully being who you are in the depth and breadth of your heart space? Are you allowing yourself the freedom to be who you are?

It is most important as you move into your month of September, into the last four months of your year of 2018, to begin to now fully recognize the truth of your beingness.

It is now time to look into the mirror and ask yourself;
Am I being who I am?
How deeply do I love, honor and value me?

We have asked these questions many times. Yet it is now time to take hold, take stock and take charge of where you are in your life, knowing that you are a divine disciple of the Christ Consciousness and you live in the wonderfulness and greatness of who you are. Know that in the depth and breadth of your heart space you have much to share with others. It is most important now to move from the depths of despair, the depths of unlovingness, and looking at what isn't in your life, and move into community, harmony and equality with others.

We have said to you, as you move through 2018, it is about creating a new collective consciousness. What is that collective consciousness for you?

Are you fixated, stuck on looking at what is transpiring in your third dimensional world and reacting to it? Are you still allowing what is transpiring in the world outside of you to hold you in a place of lack limitation and struggling to survive life? Are you still in the quagmire of the old of your life? Can you see, that if in fact you are stuck in your life, you have the vehicles, the tools, the relationships, to move past this?

It is most important to see what is transpiring in the world outside of you and ask yourself; Am I buying into the illusion? This is the illusion that is being created and perpetrated in the world outside of you. Does this illusion reflect your truth? Or is what is transpiring in the world outside of you holding you in the place of the old in your life? Are you still looking outside of you for validation and gratification?

It is now most important to ask yourself as you move into your month of September all of these questions. Simply begin with;

Where Am I in my life?

Is my life reflecting who I am?

Is my life reflecting the beingness of who I am?

Is my life reflecting what I say I want?

OR

Am I repeating constantly and consistently old patterns, habits, rituals and behaviors?

Am I indulging or sinking into where I am in my life at this time?

It is most important as you move into September toward the end of 2018 through December, to reflect upon all of this and where you are in your life right now.

Many are moving to intersections, jumping off points and critical points, to make decisions and choices. It is time now to ask your self the question; Is there joy in my life? Is life joyous? Or is my conditioning so deep that I don't know what joy is? Do I continuously look at my hardships in life? Do I continually move through the old behaviors that keep me in this place, this cycle of the old, struggling to survive life in lack and limitation?

If in fact you look at all of this, you may see in some aspects of your life, you are continuing old habits, patterns, rituals and behaviors, that keep you stuck in the old.

We have said to you throughout your year of 2018, it is about reaching out to create a new collective consciousness by creating community, harmony and equality with others who resonate and vibrate as you. Doing this with those who have a similar truth as you. It is now time to open your heart space and move into a new level of intimacy with others. Allow others in. Allow others to penetrate your mask. Allow others to penetrate the armor around your heart.

Look at your heart. Where are you within your heart?

Are you open to allow others to become a part of your life in a deeper, intimate way?

If in fact community, harmony and equality is important to you, see now where that is in your life, if it is in your life.

Or

Do you still isolate and separate yourself from others and move into your defense?

A question We have for you is;

What frightens you about Love?

What is it about loving another that frightens you?

When others come to love you, what frightens you?

More than likely it simply triggers memories and old wounding.

It is now time, if in fact it is important to you, to connect with others, to open your heart to allow others to penetrate the wall you have built around your heart.

Allow the wounding, the feelings, and the old memories to surface.

Each and every one of you has many tools and relationships that can guide and support you through these episodes in your life. But it is up to you to open your heart to others and become available to be supported and guided through what is transpiring in your life at this wonderful and most glorious time.

As you enter your month of September look into the mirror and ask;

What is my truth?

Am I being who I am?

If not, why?

What do I shame and judge about me?

What am I shaming and judging about others?

Do I look outside of myself into the third dimensional world and measure who I am being based upon what is transpiring out in the world?

How am I measuring myself?

Am I comparing myself to others?

Is how I am perceived out in the world important so I am validated and gratified?

Is my perception of me important?

What is your perception of yourself?

Is it important for you how others perceive you?

If they perceive you they way you intend them to, then you are accepted and loved.

Is your basis for love outside of you?

If I am being the person others want me to be this will bring me love.

It is now important now to look at where you are being loved for who you are.

As you enter your month of September through December and the end of your year, it is now time to see the truth of who you are and know, beyond a shadow of a doubt that you are loved for who you are.
