A Message for April 2021

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are opening up to new parameters in your life, moving from the old into the new. You are now looking at the old in your life and it is time to move into an application of life, love, oneness as you move from the old into the new. What is transpiring now for you is the facilitation of moving from the old and into the new. Many are looking at aspects of the old in their life and seeing what is important to release and then move into the new.

You are moving through a period of time where you are examining your life and what is transpiring in all the aspects of it. Many are feeling as if they are in an in between period. As you move from your month of March into April and from the first three months of 2021, you are transitioning from the old into the new. What We mean by this is you are doing this within you and many are navigating this. Many are navigating their transition from the old into the new. Much has been revealed in the first three months of 2021. Many are moving from the old of 2020. The first three months of 2021 have been a transition period of moving from the old of 2020 into the new of 2021.

Many are navigating life and now taking responsibility for their life. Many are looking at their life, what they are responsible for and what they want. You are moving from the transition period of the first three months of 2021 from the old life into a new life that is now beginning in your month of April.

We are coming to you at this most important time to bring you a message about transitioning from the old into new and how to do that. So it is about looking at the old in your life and perhaps seeing what is transpiring in the world outside of you and also what is transpiring within you. The reason why many are having questions about moving from the old to the new, is because they have shifted the relationship they are having with themselves. This is what these teachings are about, shifting the relationship you are having with you. Many of you are learning so much about yourself. Many of you have moved through the old wounding, healing it and moving from the wounded child running your life into the adult running your life. Thus, you are gaining a new perspective of life. A new perspective of why the transition is happening. Quite possibly you are looking at the old of what you had been doing, had participated in, what was transpiring in your life and realizing that those aspects of your life no longer resonate for you. This pertains to the aspects in the third dimensional world outside of you that no longer resonate for you. Yet, you are not quite sure what resonates for you now.

Many have moved through the first three months of your year of 2021 and moving into a place where you can look at your life, see what is transpiring now and look at what no longer resonates for you. You are now moving into aspects of the new you, the new adult you. You are opening up to the depth and breadth of your heart space and seeing what you now truly want from the adult space.

The key to growth, to self mastery is about negotiating the aspects of yourself but differentiating from the wounded child and the adult. Many are now seeing the old through the eyes of the adult where before they looked at the old through the wounded child. You are now moving into the adult space leading your life and the new aspects of your life. It is from this adult space you can now ask, What do I want? What is most important to me as the adult as I am transitioning from the wounded child leading my life into the adult leading it. This is why you are looking at the old in your life and quite possibly seeing that why you were participating in the old aspects of your life was due to the wounds of the child, the needs of the wounded child and the need to heal the wounds of the child.

Now that you have healed many of the aspects of the wounded child, you are transitioning into the adult space, the adult perspective, the aspects of the adult within you. The reason why much of the old no longer makes any sense to you or no longer resonates is because you see that you participated in it through the wounds of the child, through the eyes of the child. Now, you are growing up and growing into the adult space and ready to make choices and decisions in your life based upon the adult you are now.

So it is important now as you move into your month of April to move into this place through acceptance and compassion. You may not know what is new for you or the direction you are headed, but you see the old. It is about recapitulating the old aspects of your life, looking at the old and ask, Why did I enter those aspects of the old? Even asking why you participated in aspects of the third dimensional realm outside of you? What is transpiring in your governmental, political systems and what is transpiring in your world right now? It was through the eyes of the child you looked at that and attached yourself to what is transpiring in the world outside of you. This is why We have asked you, What are you attached to in the third dimensional realm? What are your attachments to the third dimensional realm? As you move from the child to the adult, many are seeing these attachments, realizing them and ready to release them. The reason why you held on to those attachments was through the wounds of the child. Getting your needs met from outside of you. You attached yourself to the world outside of you thinking that it will solve everything in your life.

As you move within and do the inner work and heal the wounds of the child and move into the adult space, you are realizing the you are powerful within you. You no longer need to attach yourself to what is transpiring in the world outside of you. The attachments to the illusion that is transpiring in the 3D world outside of you. You are moving into a more autonomous self, a more self sustaining adult self where you are the creation. You are the powerfulness to create what you say you want that fully satisfies your needs as the adult. As you move into the month of April, many are now beginning this process of detaching and unattaching from the third dimensional realm outside of you. And seeing this more clearly. What you are seeing more clearly as you move into the adult space are your attachments to the world outside of you. And now realizing you can un-attach from the third dimensional world outside of you in the full perspective of the adult. Seeing that you are self sustaining and no longer need anything outside of you but now choose what you say you want outside of you. Choose the relationships outside of you.

You are now letting go of validation and gratification from outside of you. You are being gratified and fulfilled within you as you move to the highest realms of your soul development. Many are raising their level of soul development. As you move and transition from the old to the new, many are shifting and changing and growing inside of themselves moving to a new level of soul development.

Many are now ready to fully close the door behind them and move into the new aspects of your soul plan. By moving into aspects of your soul's divine plan, you live soul purposefully. You are moving from the soul space. When you move to the depth and breadth of living your soul's divine plan you organically and naturally release the attachments to the third dimensional realm outside of you because this is simply a distraction. It is a distraction from yourself. It is a distraction from living your soul's divine plan.

So as you now move into your month of April, you can move within and ingest all that We are bringing to you at this time with this message that is most important to come to you at this most important time in the transitional process on your pathway to Self Mastery.
