A Message for December 2024

Checks and Balances and Taking Responsibility

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are moving into the wonderment of life, the perpetuation of life, the perpetuation of moving into the depth and breadth of the heart space and the powerfulness and the grandness and greatness of self.

As We said to you the last time We came to you, the energies that are hovering over your earthly plain throughout your month of November are solidifying to bring balance and equalization to you and the wonderful and most glorious souls who inhabit your earthly plain en masse. As you move into your month of December these energies are solidifying into your earthly plain and will remain in perpetuity. It will be the perpetuation of life as you know it and look at life opening your heart space and being in the place of love in the depth and breadth of your heart space. As you move into your month of December it is about moving into the perpetuation of love within the depth and breadth of your heart space. The perpetuation of the highest energy of love that raises your resonance and vibration.

It is important to see what is transpiring in your third dimensional realm outside of you that lowers your resonance and vibration. It is about detaching yourself from the third dimensional realm. More so looking at your attachments to the third dimensional realm and how that is affecting you. How is that affecting your sense of love, your well being, your sense of powerfulness and the voice inside of you to speak that love, that powerfulness, and the aspects of peace, community, harmony and equality. It is about looking at this in your month of December and embodying it. Also seeing what is transpiring in the depth and breadth of your heart space that is raising your resonance and vibration. This is what is most important as you move into your month of December and the last month of your year of 2024. It is the perpetuation of life, of love, and the well beingness of each and every one of you en masse where peace, love, community and equality resides. And moving into balance with this.

The energies that are hovering over your earthly plain that are solidifying as a body of energy is now locking into your earthly plain and moving into a place of checks and balances. Checking yourself where you are imbalanced. And overseeing the aspects of your earthly plain, the humanity of the earthly plain where checks and balances are concerned. Keeping those checks and balances in place that perpetuate love, peace, community, harmony equality and balance.

What you will be seeing throughout your month of December is checks and balances revealing itself. Most notably inside of you and your soul family where reach and every one of you is responsible for that. What We mean by this is the checks and balances within your soul family. Raising the awareness of others who are finding themselves being engulfed by what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm. Fully immersed and engulfed by what is transpiring in the low, dense aspects of your third dimension. Reminding others of this and where they are straying off the course of love, peace, community, harmony and most importantly equality.

These energies are equalization energies that brings your world into balance. Brings your earthly plain into balance. And humanity into balance and you into balance of the self.

What is transpiring as you move into your month of December is the aspects of checks and balances. You will see the perpetrated on the earthly plain outside of you which will carry over into the beginning of your year of 2025. Checks and balances. Where are you checking yourself? Who is assisting you in checking you when you stray off the course of love, peace, community and equality within you so you can begin to move into the powerfulness of the radiator force within yourself? The Christ Consciousness, the God consciousness within you so you can radiate that outside of you to one another. Thus, the importance of the soul family and the congruence of the soul family in the depth and breadth of your heart space. The congruence of the resonance and vibration of the soul family.

Soul families are developing en masse on your earthly plain with the credo of checks and balances. Balancing and checking, checking and balancing. What is transpiring as well on your earthly plain at this important time that is being assisted by the energies from the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th dimensions in this one body of energy that is hovering over your earthly plain is the creation of new soul families. Or new congruent investment people who are investing in the aspects of love, community, harmony and equality. This is beginning to transpire all over your earthly plain that will form energetically as a check as to what is transpiring in the low, dense vibrational aspects of your earthly realm.

In many ways this may seem convoluted and complicated for many of you because it is a complicated process. A complicated process in the depth and breadth of your heart space. Which is why many throughout their personal process have found that process complicated. This is because you are moving through your defense system. A defense system that was armored in distrust and mistrust. What is transpiring in your third dimensional realm is armored by the conditioning and programming. What has been transpiring for each and every one of you is you are chipping away at that armor and the armor around your heart space is beginning to fall off. As the defense system around your heart space is moving away, you are finding the armor or defense system is being chipped at energetically and the dense armor is being broken and falling away. As this is happening you are finding that you can trust. And who you are trusting is you. It is now about moving within and feeling safe within you in the beingness of you. What is transpiring in your third dimensional realm and continues to transpire, many are feeling unsafe in the world outside of you. It is now about finding that you are safe within you. And as you create these high vibrational, high resonant soul families, moving into a congregation of soul family you are finding individuals, individuated adults who are no longer allowing the wounds of the child to run their life. What you are seeing mirrored outside of you in those who have declined in many ways the personal process, you are seeing them perpetrating aspects of that in preying upon that wounded child inside of you. The child that never felt safe with mom and dad. But as you enter into a personal process and begin to chip away at the armor around your heart space to allow the energy and the wounds to flow, come to the surface and dissipate, you experience the trauma from the wounding and the conditioning. Many are now beginning to rise above that. As we said to you the last time We came to you, it is now time to rise above the fray. Rise above the low, dense vibrational aspects of your third dimensional realm. How you do this is by raising your own resonance and vibration by releasing the armor from around your heart space to know you are safe by being who you are. It is the method of all the teachings you have experienced through Us and many others. Rising above the low, dense vibrational aspects of what is transpiring around you. Raising your resonance and vibration en masse with others so you can raise the resonance and vibration of the third dimensional realm around you and begin to spread that word. The word of the Christ Consciousness. The word of love, peace, community, harmony and equality.

We ask you, when you look out into the third dimensional realm look at what resonates for you and what doesn't. Where are you focusing your attention? On what does resonate or what doesn't? As you raise your resonance and vibration and release the mask, release the armor from around your heart space and do this, your resonance and vibration is raising. In doing this you are finding more of what doesn't resonate for you outside of yourself quite possibly as to what does. What you are realizing and what resonates within you is your powerfulness. And with this comes a voice to express yourself within that. How are you expressing yourself? How are you expressing the resonance and vibration that is raising within you? How are you expressing love, peace, community, harmony and equality? Or, are you focused on what no longer resonates outside of you? In the vernacular of those on your earthly plain, it is love that conquers all. Where are you focusing your attention?

As you move into your month of December We ask you, where is the focus of your attention now in your life? Are you looking at what raises your resonance and vibration and focusing on that? Or are you looking at what lowers your resonance and vibration and fixating on that through your wounded self?

You will see a rising of checks and balances as you move into your month of December. The rising of responsibility. Each and every one of you taking responsibility for you then emanating and radiating that message of responsibility out into the world.

Your month of December is about checks and balances and taking responsibility. What are you choosing to do now based upon the awareness and consciousness of who you are now?

As We take our leave at this most important time in the evolutionary process of the individuals who inhabit your earthly plain and the evolutionary process of what is transpiring on your earthly plain as it is so it its soul plan, as are you in your soul plan, it is most important to pay attention to checks and balances and responsibility.

For those who say they are here to emanate love peace, community, harmony and equality into the we, where are you checking those who say it yet may mean something else?
