

Archangel Michael Speaks Channeled by Jeff Fasano

A Message for 2025 A Year of Enlightenment to the Truth of the Being of Who You Are

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you move into the depth and breadth of your heart space and into the grandness and greatness of self as you exit your year of 2024 and moving into your year for 2025. A year of great expectations in many ways for most. Great ambivalence. A great growth period within the depth and breadth of your heart space. If you look outside as to what is transpiring in your third dimensional realm on your earthly plain you see mass chaos in many ways. Mass uncertainty outside of yourself that brings into question how you may be hinging your self worth on what is transpiring in the third dimensional real outside of you. In many ways you will have a continuation of looking at your self worth.

Are you looking at what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm outside of you and letting that dictate how you live your life? We have asked you this question many times.

As you move into your month of January in your new year of 2025, it is about looking more deeply at your self worth in relationship to what is transpiring in your third dimensional realm. Are you looking at what is transpiring outside of you in the third dimensional realm and allowing that to dictate your self worth and self powerfulness?

We said to you in your month of December and in the last three months of your year of 2024, the energies hovering over your earthly plain have taken root to bring balance and equalization into your life and in the third dimensional realm outside of you. You are now moving into place in a new soul family or creating a new soul family and using this family where checks and balances are concerned. To check where you are. What are you utilizing to check where you are where self value and self worth is concerned? Or, are you looking outside of yourself in the third dimensional realm at what is transpiring and allowing that to affect the way in which you live your life?

It is about self powerfulness. It is about congregating with like minded souls, like minded individuals creating new soul families that raise the resonance and vibration of that soul family. And as the soul family moves into congregation en masse, it can shift and change the resonance and vibration of your third dimensional realm.

If you move within these configurations of like minded souls energetically in soul families, you will be raising the resonance and vibration of that configuration, that soul family. Thus yourself by continuing the inner journey.

Do you allow yourself to see what is transpiring outside of you in the third dimensional realm and let it affect you? To what degree does it affect you? Are you allowing it to permeate the powerfulness of the self on an energetic soul level?

As you look out into the third dimensional realm, in the low dense vibrational aspects of it it is important to understand that when you do look out into it, there are high levels of vibrational aspects of it as well. Your soul family, the individuals you are having relationships with that raise your resonance and vibration. These are aspects of the third dimensional realm outside of you that raises your resonance and vibration. Then there are aspects of it that lowers your resonance and vibration. What are you paying attention to? What are you focusing on? As you move into your month of January We ask you these questions as a reminder once again to begin the new year.

In many ways your month of January is a reminder as to where you are within the depth and breadth of your heart space energetically on your soul path as your third dimensional realm is on its soul path. Whatever is transpiring in the third dimensional realm. It is about how it makes you feel. Does it raise your resonance and vibration or does it lower it? What raises your resonance and vibration and what lowers it? Are you paying attention more so to what lowers your resonance and vibration or to what raises it? Does your soul family raise your resonance and vibration? Does the congregation of like minded individuals and souls who are on the path of the Christ consciousness being peace, community, harmony, equality, love? Are you paying attention to that? Is that your focus? Or do you focus on that which is transpiring in the third dimensional realm that lowers your resonance and vibration?

As you move into your month of January We ask you to look at the third dimensional realm outside of you and once again ask yourself, what raises my resonance and vibration, who raises it, what lowers it and who lowers it? And where am I focusing my intention and my attention. It is most important as you begin your year of 2025 to take into account all of this and as you move through it. There are aspects in your third dimensional realm that are in chaos, in disarray and incongruent to where you are. There are aspects of it that are in congruence with where you are and raise your resonance and vibration. It is important to look at this if in fact you so choose to move forward and raise your level of resonance and vibration as you move through your year of 2025.

Your month of January as you begin your year of 2025 is simply a month to take a look at where your focus of attention is in your life. Is it on the Christ consciousness? Peace, community, harmony, equality, love, congruence. Or is it on what diverts you from that? It is most important as you move through your year of 2025 to ask yourself what am I committed to? Am I committed to focusing my attention on that which lowers my resonance and vibration in the third dimensional realm thus lending it energy. Or are you focusing on the soul family? The congruent soul family. The congruence of like minded souls raising their resonance and vibration, embodying the Christ consciousness of peace, community, harmony, equality, love? Or are you focusing on that which diverts yourself from this? It is most important to raise your resonance and vibration en masse. Where are you lending your energy? Where are you expending your energy?

It is about looking at your attachments to the third dimensional realm outside of you. Looking at what you are attached to. In many ways your year of 2025 can be a year of exponential growth, exponential inner growth. Exponential aspects of how you can give to the world outside of you with the credo of the Christ Consciousness. Peace, community, harmony, equality, love.

As you move through your year of 2025 in the first half of it, there will be aspects of growing. Growing within yourself more deeply. Growing when seeing what is transpiring outside of you that no longer resonates for you. For many seeing the aspects of the third dimension that are different and the many aspects of it.

The energies that have moved in that began in your month October in your year of 2024 and solidified in your months of November and December and rooted itself in your earthly plain in perpetuity, will continue to hover and work to raise the resonance and vibration. In many ways your year of 2025 is a year of enlightenment. Enlightening yourself to truth and untruth. Enlightening yourself to the truth and the being of who you are. Moving on the soul path of the Christ consciousness. Peace, community, harmony, equality and love as you move through the year of 2025. A year of enlightenment. A year of seeing the differentiation between the wounded child and the adult. What will you be enlightening yourself to? Where within you would you like to sustain growth that raises your resonance and vibration? A year of disconnecting from the low, dense vibrational aspects of the third dimensional realm that has nothing to do with congruence of the soul family. The congruence of the Christ consciousness. Where are you lending energy? Are you lending your energy to the congruence of the soul family? Embodying, peace, love, community, harmony, equality. Or are you lending your energy to that which lowers your resonance and vibration?

It is time as We move into this energetic aspect, this time period you call your year of 2025 which will be divided into three distinct time periods. Three distinct energetic time periods where you now can take responsibility for yourself. It is about moving into checks and balances and taking responsibility. As you move through these three distinct time periods of your year of 2025 you will have the opportunity to take more and more responsibility for you as the adult. As opposed to giving away your power to what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm outside of you. It is about sustaining the powerfulness of the beingness of you within you in congruence with the new soul family. New soul families are forming all over your earthly plain and will solidify and embody themselves throughout your year of 2025. Soul families that will embody the Christ consciousness of peace, community, harmony, equality and love. Are you embarking on a year of love? Are you embarking on a year of peace, community, harmony and equality? Are you embarking on embodying the Christ consciousness? Or will you be staying in the old and looking outside of you in the third dimensional realm at what lowers your resonance and vibration, lending your energy to it that will sustain it?

Your year of 2025 will be a year divided into three distinct periods of time or segments of energy. The energies will vary in these periods of time. They will be windows. The first segment will be a window. The second segment another window and the third another. Portals of time where you will be able to cultivate your energy in congruence with the energies that are hovering over your earthly plain. In many ways an equalization of energy. What you will see in your year of 2025 is an equalization of energy. The body of energy hovering over your earthly plain and has solidified into it is sustaining equalization and balance. As the energy solidified itself into one body of energy made up of various bodies of energy from the 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th dimensions in your month of December, it is now rooted and planted above your earthly plain. It will now be able to sustain itself as it sustains you in equalization and balance. Checks and balance. Looking at truths and untruths. Looking at your truth and untruth. Looking at what resonates for you and what doesn't. All of this is you taking responsibility for you.

What is my truth? What resonates for me? What doesn't resonate for me?

I now take responsibility for all of this as I embody the Christ consciousness within me. To raise the resonance and vibration within the soul family as I am an ingredient in that soul family. The ingredients poured into the soul family by each individuated adult raising their resonance and vibration, raises the resonance and vibration of the soul family in congruence. As soul families form throughout your earthly plain doing this in truth, you will be able to shift the planetary energy.

We ask you to trust the process. We have asked you this many times before. Trust the process as the process is perfect.
