A Message for October 2025

Bask in the Energy of Who You Are Now

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are moving into your month of October and opening your heart space to a greater depth that you never have before. The reason why this happening is because you are now moving into a greater depth of who you are being. You are moving into a greater clarity of who you are being. A greater clarity of loving, honoring and valuing you. Greater clarity without the trauma, the wounding, the memories and conditioning of mom and dad. In many ways you are transcending that and transitioning into a greater aspect of the being of you in this aspect of your soul's divine plan. You are moving along the pathway as you move into your month of October feeling more powerful about who you are. In many ways, walking the pathway without the mask. At times maybe putting up the mask a bit or walking through the veil. Basically now, you are moving into a place of loving, honoring and valuing who you are to a greater extent that you never have before. In many ways you are opening up new pathways in your life, new parameters, new relationships. Being the true self that you are and honoring and valuing that.

In many ways you are moving into the adult place where the adult is now fully leading your life. And you are opening up to a more joyousness of self where you are feeling more confident and powerful about who you are. From time-to-time doubt may creep in but most of the time as you move through your month of October you are walking in a more steadfast and powerful place as the adult in your soul divine plan.

As you exit your month of September into your month of October and as We have been saying to you over again in the many millenniums and times We have met with you and you with us, you are moving into the new you. We have mentioned this many times before, moving into the new you. It is a new aspect of you that you are remembering who you are in the beingness of self. You have moved deep within in the inner journey and released the trauma, faced the trauma, looked at the wounding, faced the wounding, released the wounding, and as you have moved through that inner journey you are now moving through a new doorway. We came to you in your month of September and said new doorways will be opening for you and now you are at that place. The new doorway that is truly opening for you and many, is the doorway into the new you. The new more powerful and encompassing you. Many are now finding their voice of self-expression and not editing themselves. Not judging or shaming themselves. They are speaking from their heart space and the place of the Christ Consciousness of peace, love, community, harmony, equality and all-inclusiveness. This is because they are realizing that they are all-inclusive. You are now realizing that you are all-inclusive. You are who you are in the depth and breadth of you beingness.

In many ways, many are being “re-born”. They are finding a “re-birth”. Many are looking at the past behind them. Looking at the old relationships, the past of your life as if you are looking over your shoulder and seeing the past, seeing the old you, and looking at that old you. And that old you and those old relationships that no longer serve you are fading into the background. You are now distancing yourself from the old and stepping through new doorways into the new and the new you. It is not so much about that what is transpiring outside of you in the third dimensional realm is new, what is new is you. You are now remembering who you truly are. You are now remembering that your needs are important. That you are equal to those outside of you and you have a voice to express yourself. You have talents, gifts and abilities that you can bring out into the world and you are feeling that all-inclusiveness within you. For many the doorways to the past are closing and you are moving further along the pathway through the open doorway ahead of you into the new bringing the new you with you.

Many have closed those doorways. Many will understand this and close those doorways and lock them shut. Many are now distancing themselves from the old and the old relationships and easing gently towards the new, nurturing themselves. Eventually as you move through your month of October you will close those doors and many will lock those doors shut. Then you will be able to move out into the world and create your beingness. Paint the new picture of your life into the new you. Into the robust powerfulness of you. Where you are moving into a place of equality and all-inclusiveness combining your human form into your spiritual form, the God-like consciousness.

In many ways you will see your attachments more clearly to the third dimensional realm outside of you. In many ways you will see, as We have said to you many times before and asked the question, is what is transpiring in the world outside of you dictating the way in which you live your life? This is because you move into a place of fear and judgement of who you are. And you see now as you move out of that fear, the fear of being you, the fear of the powerfulness of you, and you move through that new doorway you will be able to now create the world you say you want. As you now move into your month of October you will be able to create that new world. You will be able to create those new relationships, that new life from a completely different place. A place within yourself where you are fully honoring and valuing and loving you. A place within yourself where you are fully knowing who you are and your talents, gifts and abilities. A place within yourself where you are loving you and seeing your powerfulness of you and knowing that you matter in the world outside of you.

In many ways you will be moving out and blossoming into the new you as you move through your month of October and the new doors open into the new life. You will see the mythical illusions of the third dimensional realm. And know, as you raise your resonance and vibration that for many their resonance and vibration is at the highest it has been in their entire lifetime on this earthly plain. This is because of the inner work and releasing the old wounding and the old trauma and the conditioning of mom and dad and releasing their attachments to the third dimensional realm outside of themselves. And realize in many ways as they live in this parallel lifetime seeing the low, dense vibrational aspects of the third dimensional realm outside of themselves. Then walking that pathway into the new, they will see their powerfulness. And now be able to create from a place of wholeness and healthiness. Creating healthful relationships where there is a balance of giving and receiving. Where each wonderful and most glorious soul champions each other's highest good. Where there is community, harmony, equality, love and all-inclusiveness. Now living the life of the Christ Consciousness.

As We take our leave at this wonderful and most glorious time, We ask you to simply bask in the energy of who you are now.
