A Message for 2026

A Time to Trust and Love

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are moving into the depth and breadth of your heart space and opening up your heart to receive love. To receive love like you have never received love before. Opening up to the depth and breadth of your beingness and receive love to know that you are worthy to receive love, you are open to receive love. And now as you move through this time / space continuum in the human form moving through the wounding and the trauma you now enter into your new year and the month of January to open your heart to the depth and breadth of it and begin to fully receive love. Knowing that love is there and has always been there. It has been their outside of you from the wonderful and most glorious souls who inhabit your earthly plain and love has always been in the depth and breadth of your heart space. Opening up to the grandness and greatness of self.

Now as you move into your new year of 2026 into your month of January, perhaps many of you have closed the doors to the old behind you. And now see the vastness in the unknown of the new doors ahead of you. And opening your heart space to move through that doorway in the effervescent white light glowing from your soul space out onto the new plains, the vast plains in the new world of the new life. Bringing yourself to yourself and then bringing yourself to others as others come to you as you move in symbiosis, in harmony, community, peace, equality and love together. As you move into your new year of 2026 opening up to the depth and breadth of you in the full beingness of you.

With that said, opening up to the depth and breadth of your heart space to move through the new doors that are opening up for you. You can now move on that pathway and connect with those who resonate and vibrate with you at a much deeper level. And move together with those who resonate and vibrate with what you are to do with purpose. Your new endeavors, your new passion, your new purpose. And that is all to be determined as you move through each month of your new year of 2026.

What is most important is looking at the difference between willfulness and trust. It is not about forcing yourself on others, forcing yourself out into the world as you move on the new pathway. It is simply trusting you are enough. Trusting that who you are being is enough. Trusting the universe outside of yourself in your vernacular and moving through the flow of life.

Now what is most important as you move into your new year of 2026 is asking yourself, what do I want? What is most important to me? What do I need? It is about a redefinition of this based upon where you are now in your evolutionary process on this earthly plain that you have chosen to inhabit in the human form.

Basically, it is about looking at the new you. Who is that new you? Are you standing fortified in the depth and breadth of your heart space in the full beingness of the new you? Moving into a greater depth of the Christ Consciousness of peace, community, harmony, equality, love and all-inclusiveness. As you now look into the mirror and see the all-inclusiveness of yourself. Perhaps looking into the mirror for the very first time and saying, I Love Me. I love this wonderful and most glorious soul who is staring back at me. As We asked you in your month of December as your year of 2025 came to a close, where have you moved to in your evolutionary process in the depth and breadth of your heart space of celebrating you? Celebrating what you have accomplished up to now based upon your soul plan. Based upon two factors. What you have created outside of yourself in the third dimensional realm based upon loving, honoring and valuing you. And where you have come to as you move through the inner journey inside of you to where you are now. To how much you love yourself more deeply now. This is the fortification of the new you. I know who I am. I love honor and value who I am. And now I am ready to move on the pathway through the new doorway as the new me radiating that out into the world. Radiating that new high vibrational resonance.

As each and every one of you walk through that new doorway, you are resonating at a new level. The new level of love. The new level of love and trust. I trust myself. I trust the beingness of myself. I am looking at the relationships I am having with others where there is a balance of giving and receiving and trust myself in that relationship because I now trust who I am. And if I trust who I am, I can now walk the pathway freely unencumbered by the wounding and the trauma. And now walk on that pathway in the effervescence of the new me. And now trust the process. Trust the pathway. Letting go of trying to control everything outside of yourself that is based upon the wounding of safety and security. If I control everything on the pathway outside of myself, I will be safe and secure. That is your wounding. It is about raising your level of resonance, consciousness, awareness and vibration to all of this and begin to utilize your tools when the ebbs and flows of life present itself to you.

As you move into your year of 2026 it is about love and trust. Love and trusting. Knowing the depth and breadth of the truth of who you are. You can now love, honor and value your truth. The question We have for you is, what is your truth? What is the truth of the beingness of who you are? Do you move into the knowingness of the self? And as you know the self more deeply than you ever have before, you now can move out into the world trusting you in all the relationships you have. And being in that trust. But what is most important is asking yourself, what do I want and do I need as I move forward through the new doorway of 2026?

As you know what you want and know what you need you then can move on the pathway and trust your soul plan. Trust that what transpires on the pathway is meant purposely for you. Opening through the new doorway. Opening your heart space through the new doorway. Some may still be in a state of trepidation about that because they are still moving through the formulation of the new you. This will ebb and flow as you move through your month of January.

Your month of January is a preparation period. As you close the old doors to the old, and the new doors open in your month of January, some might gingerly walk through the new doors, some might blast in your vernacular through those new doors and say, here I am, this is what I want, this is what I need and this is who I am. And now I am ready. Others will open themselves through that new doorway with a bit of trepidation.

In many ways We speak to all of you at this time. The congregation of like-minded souls. The congregation of those who are adamant about professing and being the Christ Consciousness of love, peace, community, harmony and equality.

As you move into your month of January and your year of 2026, for many doors are opening. As you move through those new doorways is about moving into the beingness of yourself. As you look outside of yourself, see yourself now as a way shower. This is where I am in my evolutionary process on this earthly plain. Quite possibly through that education of self, I can now be a way shower to others to do that I have done. In the soul perspective there is simply way showers and seekers to grow, to evolve and to live the fullness of the self.
