A Message for November 2026
A Time for Re-Evaluation

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are opening up to the grandness and greatness of self and opening up to new parameters of the self as you are exiting into a new time/space continuum within the physical realm of your third dimensional realm. What We are speaking to you about as you move into your month of November, the eleventh month of your year of 2026, you are exiting aspects of the old self.

We have mentioned to you many times before, you are moving through this process, especially in your year of 2026, of beginning to close doorways to the old. Closing them and locking them shut. In many ways what that means, it is what is transpiring in the physical third dimensional realm. Closing the doors to old relationships in the physical third dimensional realm. Closing doors to aspects of your life in the physical third dimensional realm. We have also been talking to you about the spiritual realm, the soul realm, the soul self. What is transpiring in that soul self, based upon the evolutionary process of you, releasing your trauma, releasing your wounding, healing yourself. In many ways what is transpiring is you are closing the old doors in that realm. The old reasons why you did things with your modalities, your endeavors, in the old realm of it. Quite possibly for gratification and validation outside of yourself. Look at me. Look at what I'm doing.

What is transpiring now is, you have moved into a deeper elevation of loving, honoring and valuing yourself. Knowing who you are without the need to look outside of yourself for gratification and validation. You are re-transitioning into a newness of you and now revisiting all of these aspects of you and your talents, gifts and abilities. This is why We said to you the last time We came to you, look at what you value about yourself and your talents, gifts and abilities and how that can re-translate into what you are giving to the world. And now for many as you have closed the old doors to the trauma, to the wounding and now moving into a well rounded aspect of who you are in this evolutionary process within yourself, loving honoring and valuing yourself and your talents, gifts and abilities more deeply, there are simply aspects of who you are and you now can bring those aspects of yourself out to the world without the need to prove to the world who you are. Without the need for outside gratification and validation because you are now fully being who you are. And when you are fully being who you are, you are just gathering the talents, gifts and abilities that you have to bring that out to the world and not making it about you. Thus, bringing it out to the world with no attachments.

As you exit your month of October into your month of November it is a re-visitation of your old talents, gifts and abilities. A re-visitation of yourself within those talents, gifts and abilities and the talents, gifts and abilities that are within you. Now re-evaluating. Since you are moving to a new value of who you are, a deeper level of loving, honoring and valuing who you are, you are moving into a re-evaluation period. Gathering you. Gathering those talents, gifts and abilities and re-evaluating all of that you have within the new maturation of self into the adult who has no need to look outside of himself and herself for validation, gratification and no need to prove to the world who you are. Because you now know who you are.

As you move into your month of November, in the first part of the month, you are beginning to re-evaluatue you, your talents, gifts and abilities and see the value of it as it is now moving to a place of bringing them out to the world and giving to others from a place and a foundation that is sturdy, that is you.

When you did this in the past there was a fragility around it. This is because you were in a place of fully not knowing who you are. In many ways giving your talents, gifts and abilities out to the world that depleted you energetically. And as you now know how to value and evaluate your energetic being you are now moving into the balance of giving and receiving as We have said to you many times. Why is it important to me now to re-evaluate my talents, gifts and abilities based upon the balance of giving and receiving? Because you now value and honor and love yourself.

In many ways your month of November is a re-awakening period. There are aspects of your lives that have been dormant for quite some time. This is because you have needed to re-evaluate who you are. At times what transpires as you look at these old modalities, old endeavors, the old talents, gifts and abilities, from time to time in the evolutionary process you put them aside to re-evaluate you. Move deeper within yourself to re-evaluate who you are and find a deeper meaning, deeper love of self. Many are now emerging from that aspect of your evolutionary process and now begin to see the old talents, gifts and abilities that have been dormant for quite some time and now maybe opening the doorway into them and re-evaluating them based upon the balance of giving and receiving, the value of yourself and now a new basis of the talents, gifts and abilities.

As you have moved to this point, this crucial point of your evolutionary process as you move into the month of November, you have done an immense amount of work on yourself to value you, love you, and honor you. You have done that in a steadfast manner, a committed manner, a focused manner and put aside aspects of your life for a while. Now in your evolutionary process, organically and naturally those aspects of your life, aspects of your talents, gifts and abilities are being tapped into by others. They are seeking all of that from you because they are a part of you. In many ways there are aspects, factions, vortexes of energy, that are in need of these talents, gifts and abilities but it is not coming from you. It is coming from outside of yourself. And you are realizing, I have those talents, gifts and abilities. I can help you with that. But you are in a place of re-evaluating that. And you are finding yourself re-visiting and re-evaluating. This is because it is not coming from you to tell others, this is what I do and this can help you that is based upon seeking validation and gratification and the need to prove to others that, yes I do this. You have put that aside. There is no need for that any longer as you have moved deeper within to find your value and how deeply you love, honor and value you. Now, you are at a place to make a choice if you so choose, to re-visit your talents, gifts and abilities and see how that can help others. All the while understanding the need for the balance of giving and receiving.

In many ways you are moving into a new cycle of life. A new cycle that has a deeper meaning, a deeper value for others as you are here to give to others. There are those coming to you that are seeking this. What it brings up inside of you in the depth and breadth of you are the old memories of the old. It is time to cast that aside as you are now beginning anew, based upon the foundation you have built of loving, honoring and valuing you.
