

JOURNEY OF THE AWAKENED HEART
Teachings of Archangel Michael
Channeled by Jeff Fasano

The Ending of Contracts

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael.
We come to you at this wonderful and most glorious time as you are now moving into a place of Self Actualization.

Many of you are defining who you are and becoming Self Actualized, being who you are. As you actualize yourself, you proficiently move forward and begin to release attachments you had come into this lifetime with. You have chosen a path toward Self Mastery, and as you move on this path you are coming to conclusions with aspects of your life that no longer resonate for you and with relationships as well.

These conclusions are the end of Contracts.

As these contracts come to a conclusion you may find your self standing alone in the world and seeking to understand this aloneness. As contracts with various wonderful and glorious souls in your lifetime are ending this as well might move you into to a place of aloneness. New doorways have opened on your pathway toward what you say you want, and as you move through them you stand in a place of aloneness. You may look over your shoulder and see that you have ventured quite a distance on your pathway and yet feeling as if you are Alone.

These contracts were written prior to this lifetime with various wonderful and glorious souls and they are coming to a close. This varies for each and everyone of you and feelings are coming up because you are moving into the final chapter of letting go of the attachments that you have to anyone and anything outside of your self.

Because you have made a steadfast commitment toward Self Mastery, you may be realizing that these feelings coming up are so to a greater depth than you have ever felt before. You are opening up to a greater depth of self-realization where it may seem nothing outside of yourself may matter any longer. It is all about You and not about You at the same time. And as you begin to embody who you are, you then begin to move into a place of the knowing-ness of you and now can just Be You.

As these contracts expire and you look at relationships, you now see the attachments to these wonderful and glorious souls. You then begin to realize why you had the relationship and entered into this contract. It is very important for you to know that the contract was signed, sealed and delivered prior to your soul fragment entering into this third dimensional realm in this lifetime.

The duration of the contract varies from soul to soul. As these contracts come to an end you let go of old paradigms and patterns. Many are looking at those wonderful and glorious souls where the contract pervades and have a myriad of feelings about that person. The feelings may vary from joyousness and love to sadness and anger.

It is time to look at these wonderful and glorious souls and see the contract.

Take the time to find out what you have learned in this relationship or these relationships. Look at where your energy is best spent because these relationships are a proxy for the old in your life.

Is there one poignant relationship that has taught you more than others?

What you have learned is now allowing you to end the contract on your end, whether this person knows about the contract or not. Look at the expiration date of the contract whether it is in print or energetic and realize that you are now coming to endings.

These endings may frighten you. They frighten you because as you move into the depth and breadth of the silence, the void, the darkness, and as these endings approach you are finding that there is nothing to hold onto any longer.

The safety net, the security net is no longer feasible in your life. You are realizing that the only safety net that you have is You. The most important aspect of it all is You.

You are finding that these endings are coming but it is now time to look at the endings as beginnings.