Transformation, Identification and Clarification

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you now as many are becoming aware that your consciousness and awareness is heightening. You are becoming aware that it is important to move out into the world with your endeavors and modalities and teachings. Utilizing the wisdom that comes from us and other multi-dimensional energies. Releasing being entrenched in the personal process.

There is a heightened awareness and many can now feel a heightened level of kinetic energy flowing through them. Many are feeling a sense of urgency to move and bring their teachings out to the world. It is an urgency where what they have to give to the world is important. It is a heightened urgency within, a state of energetic beingness. It is important now to be where you need to be and bring your teachings, modalities and endeavors to the world.

What We mean by urgency is this. It is not important and urgent to do it now in the physical. The urgency is a direct connection to the next step in their soul's divine plan. The human perceives it as an urgent calling and for some it may be so. It is a heightened awareness to self importance and self love as well as a heightened awareness that their modality, endeavor is important to bring to the world for transformation.

Transformation and Information

It is important to understand that the key aspect here is transformation as opposed to information. It is not so much about giving information it is about supplying information for transformation.

The heightened awareness is for those who are utilizing their personal transformational process to bring themselves out into the world. If you look at your life you have transformed from what was to what is and who you are now.

This period of time is no longer about information it is a period transformation. So many who are seeking a higher awareness are realizing that something needs to shift and change in their lives and within themselves. They have accumulated an inordinate amount of information through inspiration to now move to transformation. We are addressing those who are looking to transform themselves and utilize their endeavors, teachings and modalities to transform others.

Identification of Self

This next ten week period is about stepping into the unknown. As you move into the personal process and utilize the energies, the tools, the messages, the lessons you have been given, you are shifting and changing yourself. Thus your identification of self shifts and changes. In the past you may have identified yourself though what may be transpiring out in the world, or possibly though an endeavor you are giving to the world. What is shifting and changing is releasing looking outside of you for identification to identifying yourself in an entirely different way that comes from within. With this your perception of the world outside of you shifts and changes.

As your self identification begins to shift and change, your perception of self, that might have based upon looking outside of you is shifting and changing. This is all based upon a new meaning, value and purpose.

Many may be asking:

What is the meaning, value and purpose of this endeavor?

What is the meaning, value and purpose of my life?

These questions come up because of your personal transformation.

Many may be in a place where they are wondering what their life is about. The reason for this is based on the new you.

Also your old identification of self may be a reason why you are in the geographical location you are in. Moving forward now, the resonance and vibration of a geographical location or vortex of energy now is a match of your energy and vibration. Thus will allow you to flourish and bring your teachings and endeavors out into the world with more grace and ease. It is a shift from the outer to the inner and then to the outer.

Many are in the inner process of wondering and possibly feeling lost or disconnected. Perhaps a place of disassociation to what is transpiring in the world and who it is transpiring with. Thus why it is important to look at your relationships.

Many of you are in a Limbo period a period of being in between. Within this is a period of self examination. Examining yourself, your needs, what you want, examining the resonance and vibration and looking at who is in your life now and taking stock of you, your modalities, your endeavors and why it is important to bring them out into the world.

Many are in this place and now. The eclipse of your moon was an ignition point of transformation and clarification, a period of clarifying you and your endeavors. So you may be feeling as if you are in between lives, in between worlds, in between relationships and wondering why and how.

This period of time will bring greater clarification to those at this place and to those who have a heightened awareness of themselves. It is about releasing the status quo of the old. Releasing the reasons why you are in a certain geographical location, why you are in a certain relationship that may be based upon the wounding of the old self.

Many are moving through a period of growing up to the full fledged adult that no longer needs gratification and validation from outside of the self. For those who now can stand fully in their powerfulness and greatness and begin to state to the world their needs and what they want and what they would like their life to be. This is now a movement from the inner to the outer and not based upon the circumstances of the outside world.

This is all based upon joy.

What brings you the greatest amount of joy in life?

Who brings you the greatest amount of joy in life?

Are you seeing a reflection in the mirror with another the relationship you are having with yourself?

It is now important to utilize the information or wisdom you have received for transformation. It is wonderful to receive the wisdom, it is now important to use that wisdom for transformation. Utilize the wisdom, the teachings, the information to transform you within then relaying the wisdom, the teachings, the information to other so they can begin their transformation.

By not only seeing yourself and seeing the old there, many now are seeing the old of the earthly plain. Perhaps in your political systems and your governmental systems. This is a direct reflection of you raising your level of meaning, value and purpose. Many are questioning, the meaning, value and purpose of their life or their relationships?

As you transform within this shifts your meaning, value and purpose, the meaning value and purpose of you and your endeavors. Thus it is important to identify when you move into a new endeavor the meaning, value and purpose of it.

Are you doing it to become well known for validation and gratification?

Or are you doing it to serve and transform others?

The impetus for this transformational period is Meaning Value and Purpose.

You are now beginning this period and this transformational process.

Many are disillusioned with and their life is not quite sure about their life. Many are questioning their life.

As you move from the old to the new which is a consistent process, many are at the place of the ending of the old and why the questioning comes as well as the disillusionment comes in.

The identification of the self in the old is shifting and changing. You move from the old to the new but not immediately. You move through a transition period of releasing the old and moving into the new. Many are seeing this shift in resonance and vibration.

The lunar eclipse signified the beginning of transformation and transition for those who are considering the next step.
