

Archangel Michael Speaks
Channeled by Jeff Fasano
A Message for May 2017

Speaking your Truth with Integrity and the Impeccability of Your Word

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are moving into new parameters of your existence in the third dimensional realm. Each and everyone one of you is moving into a new focus of self as you move into your month of May. Your year of 2017 is a year of fully recognizing, remembering and seeing your truth, standing in the powerfulness of that truth and knowing that you exist and live within it.

We come to speak to you about moving into your truth. When you move into that truth, recognize it, see it and begin to speak it, it is important to be aware of impeccability when speaking it. When you speak your truth and the essence of you are you speaking with integrity and the impeccability of that word? Are you being your truth?

We continue bringing you these messages so you can move into the beingness of your truth and release separation from it and duality as well. "This is my truth you say." Yet there may be a veil, a mask, a shroud that surrounds your heart space that dictates the way in which you are "supposed" to present yourself to the world. Quite possibly wondering, will they accept me, love me for speaking my truth?

Can you speak your truth and know that you will be loved for doing so and loved for who you are?

Many are beginning to realize their truth. As you being to rediscover and remember your truth, seeing it, feeling it, are you ready to begin speaking it? Are your ready to be that truth? If so, there is an impeccability and integrity to it that raises your level of resonance and vibration. In the beingness of you, you are in the integrity and impeccability of you.

Truth is integrity
Truth is Impeccability

Many now are rediscovering and remembering the truth of who you are, the truth of your beingness that is peace, community, harmony, equality, intimacy and love, can you speak this? Can you move to the precipice and begin to speak your truth? For many who are ready to speak your truth, feelings come up, quite possibly a fear of speaking your truth. This is because of judgment and shame still resides within you. Will I still be loved if I speak my truth?

Now that you are moving into your truth, what are you feeling? As you do this, untruths are quite possibly being mirrored back to you. As you move deeper within and uncover and remember your truth, you will then see the full illusion of the untruths perpetrated outside of you in the macrocosm of the world and in your relationships with others.

You are approaching the half way point of your year 2017, if you are ready to speak your truth, resistance to doing so may come up. Recognize this. Why is this? Is there judgment and shame? Do the questions will I be loved or how will I be perceived by others surface? You may now be moving from a cocoon like state, quite possibly from following herd consciousness, following the mythical, deified leader who proclaims to lead you to the promise land. If you see this in your life, are you ready to step from behind that veil to be who you are and speak your truth in honesty, impeccability and integrity?

In this month of May you are moving to a deeper place of compassion for self. And We bring this message to illuminate for you to see if any or all of this is transpiring for you.

As you move through May you will begin to feel the impetus to speak your truth with honesty and the beingness of you. It is time to move into the beingness of you. Many are just scratching the surface, many are on the pathway there and many are already in the full beingness of who you are. As you stand in this place opening your heart space to the world, quite possibly feeling vulnerable with feelings of betrayal surfacing, be there. Allow yourself to be exactly where you are. If you are ready to speak and be your truth and deep-rooted feelings come to the surface, perhaps fear, allow it. If your intention is to move into the full beingness of you, knowing that you are loved for being you and then speaking your truth to the world whether it be to the masses or the person you meet right next to you, it is time to pay attention to your feelings. These are the feelings you have avoided and suppressed and repressed within you.

When you look outside of you in the world and perhaps triggered by what is transpiring out there, what is triggering you is the un-truth. If this is transpiring for you ask, what am I feeling in this moment?

Your month of May is about moving deeper into your feelings. If you are ready to speak your truth and be in the moment of who you are, feelings may be moving to a crescendo within you. You may be feeling anxious, unnerved, angry, be with these feelings. As you move deeper within the depth and breadth of your heart space revealing your truth and feeling it is time to speak it, to be it, feelings will come to the surface. These feelings may be loud and clear to you. These are the feelings you have suppressed and repressed. Energy is attached to these feelings and you will feel the energy in your body. Perhaps in your solar plexus, in your throat, feeling as if your throat is constricted when you would like to speak your truth. This energy needs to move.

As you move stridently and assertively with the impetus and intention that it is time to be who you are and speak your truth, you may begin to experience all that We just mentioned to. With compassion, allow yourself to be where you are because this is part of the process that will move you to the place of the powerfulness of speaking your truth.

We bring this up because it is important to understand your powerfulness. As you move deeper within your heart to speak your truth ask, how does this make me feel? Begin to acknowledge those feelings. Do you feel powerful perhaps because you have moved from a cocoon like state, a docile state that is based upon your conditioning. Perhaps you were taught, it is better to be seen and not heard. Move along with the pack to get along with others. Don't stand out. Don't call attention to yourself. It is not about this. It is about moving deeper within to celebrate the uniqueness of you as you stand as a God force Being in the third dimensional incarnation of you.

You are now beginning to connect with the Christ Consciousness, the God Consciousness. It is always important to keep this in mind. Open your heart space to the wonderfulness of you. As you move through your month of May many will be feeling and experiencing highs and lows, moving through the shadow and into the light, the rollercoaster of life. At one point you move to a crescendo to the top of the mountain, a peak, saying, I can conquer everything. In the very next moment you move into the shadow. This is part of the process.

Allow yourself to know that as you are at the highest point in your life and you move to the depth of the shadow, you are still alive. You can move through this and stand in the depth of your truth and your power. As you move into the shadow you move to a place to clear that which needs to clear from your mental, emotional and physical body. Allow yourself to be in this place when you are there. When you allow this with acceptance and compassion, you will move through the shadow in divine perfect timing then move to the light. As you stand in the light, feel your feelings. Allow them and speak your truth. It is important to remember that as you are in the shadow of life you can still speak your truth.

Open your heart. Shine your light on the world. You are at an intersection in your life where many are looking to the left, to the right and some are looking behind. If this is you, quite possibly you are looking at the comfort zone of the old. Saying perhaps, I just want to be comfortable in life. I want to go back into the comfort of what I know. If this is you ask yourself, what do I know in that comfort? Do I know isolation, separation, duality, lack, limitation, struggling to survive? Many do.

If you are moving on a step by step process deeper within the depth and breadth of your heart, committed to the path of personal process to reach and understand the divinity of you, and in that divinity the uniqueness of you, you will then move into a powerfulness of this.

It is beholden upon to as a lightworker and wayshower, as an ambassador of God to shine your light on the world, speak your truth and be who you are.

It is most important that you now pay attention and take responsibility for the impeccability and the integrity of your word. You are seeing the un-truths of the word spoken by many in the macrocosm and the microcosm of your life. If in fact you were to focus on one aspect of yourself at this time, it is most important to focus on the impeccability and integrity of your word when you speak your truth.
