

ARCHANGEL MICHAEL SPEAKS

Channeled by Jeff Fasano

THE POWER OF SILENCE

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We welcome you as you move deeper into the depth and breadth of your heart. We come to speak about the power of silence.

We ask you move within in silence. Move within the depth and breadth of your soul space is the place where creating in your life is "brewed". It is a place within the giant melting pot known as you. When you move within in silence you must stand in the darkness, the void and know that you exist.

In the silence look at yourself, honor and value your time with you, and reflect upon all the aspects of you that are powerful, important, and have meaning, value and purpose.

Open up the gates of your heart space, move beyond them into the darkness and on through, then into the light, the light of you. As you move deeper within you connect to the radiatory force of you, and now can move through the shadow and the darkness, toward your light, the white light that shines in the depth of your heart space and beneath. In this light know that your power is located here and is the source from where you shine your power out onto the world. This light cascades out in all directions and encompasses everything to manifest your intentions and what you need. It encompasses what is present and what is coming for you to receive as well.

As you move out on the pathway of the world to give your talents and gifts that are based in source, the radiatory white light allows you to shine this out into the world as well. It is important to move into the silence in order to allow yourself to move to the depth of this and be present with yourself.

Many of you may fear this.

Many of you may fear the depth of connection to the self.

As you release your attachments to the outer world you may be looking for someplace to go yet still look outside of you for it. As you release these attachments to the world outside of you and choose to move into the void of creation you move through the darkness of the void. Allow yourself to be present here because this is where fear could surface.

Fully immerse yourself within yourself to be alone and discover the power of you.

For many, the challenge is to just be alone, to be quiet and silent in the stillness in order discover a greater depth of your power and the radiatory force within.