Are you Resisting and Opposing What is Transpiring in Your World?

When you look at what is transpiring outside of you in the world at this most important time on your earthly plain, quite possibly your nervous system is being triggered. We ask you to see if you are reacting to what is transpiring. Observe this to see if you are coming from a place of love or a place of resistance and opposition.

Move now into the depth of your heart to a place of love. Collect your energy there. Move into a collective consciousness of your energy in your heart space. Then observe where you are in relation to what is transpiring in your outside world.

Ask, Am I in a place of love or resistance?

It is not about resisting to what is transpiring outside of you, it is about seeing where you are within it. It is also not about changing what is transpiring outside of you, it is about firmly standing in your truth and creating a new collective consciousness. This new collective consciousness is a consciousness of love, peace, community, harmony, equality and intimacy. By moving into the truth of this in your heart, you can now begin expressing it to the world.

Are you reacting to what is transpiring outside of you? It is about responding from the depth and breadth of your heart space in truth, community, harmony and love. As you do this, you begin to form a new collective consciousness. Love is the basis of it and from this place you stand in your truth and the powerfulness of it. The powerfulness of self-love and self-empowerment and is based in love.

As you form this collective consciousness over a period of time, you begin to raise the resonance and vibration of what is transpiring in the world. It is now more than ever important to move into your heart space into this place of love.
