Emerging from the Darkness Into the Light

Many are feeling as if they are emerging from the darkness and the level of your vibration is rising within and may feel more deeply empowered now to release the old. It is as if you see a current of white light and choosing to move with its flow. Many have released much of your old reality and may feel you are in a place of nothingness. Yet you have never been closer to that which lies in the depth of your heart, which is the ever-expanding light of empowerment, of being you.

Light workers are being invited to move towards this light that leads them on the pathway into the unknown. Some have moved beyond the gate of the new. Some have stopped and turned to look behind them at the old. Others still engage in the old and will remain there. It is important to continue to release the old in your life as you move forward towards the light. Along this horizon of light lies the unknown. Its frequency is infinite and therefore it raises the level of vibration within the heart to infinite dimensions; it is an infinite realm of probability that has always existed and yet is more accessible now.

Your choice is simply this: will you, as a light worker, now choose to utilize your talents and gifts to move forward and answer the call from the depth of your heart to live in the unknown with the light? Can you allow that light to shine upon your pathway as you move forward into a world of harmony, equality, and community?
