

Archangel Michael Speaks

Channeled by Jeff Fasano

The Divine Plan

Giving and Receiving

The Rise of the Feminine Energy

By setting your intentions, choices will appear and your divine plan will flow. Being selective when making choices will allow the balance of giving and receiving.

From time to time in your life, doubt will arise. It is important to remain in the consciousness of the being of who you are and open to receive love.

Your divine plan will transpire. It is about opening your heart so you can remain open to what transpires before you, to then make choices that serve your highest good.

Doorways will open for you in your divine plan. It is about choosing to walk though the doorway based upon who you are, what you want, the beingness of you and your truth. You will now walk through those doorways in a greater powerfulness and knowingness of who you are as well as a knowingness of the purpose of who you are and your endeavors.

When the doorway opens in your divine plan, it is not about peeking through the doorways with trepidation, though you may do this. Yet, based upon your inner work many have moved to a place to now stand in your powerfulness so when you walk through the doorway, there is a knowingness of who you are. Thus now directing your life through the assertive masculine and opening up in the depth and breadth of your heart space to receive through the divine feminine. This is the balancing of the masculine and feminine energies within you.

Many now are seeing a greater meaning value and purpose for themselves. This will continue to escalate as you ascend in your divine plan.

Balancing giving and receiving begins by opening your heart as you bring you and your energy to the world, then seeing what transpires as you do so. By doing this, you then allow what transpires and the opportunities that come, and with your heart open receiving what may come.

You can now focus on your intentions and bring them out to the world and allow life to unfold. Doorways will open for you, it is important for you to remain conscious when they do.

The feminine energy in your world is standing for truth more powerfully in a more compassionate way. It is about becoming more assertive with compassion. It is now about combining the assertive aspect of the masculine energy with the compassion of the feminine. It is about becoming more assertive bringing love and compassion to the world. Doing this can affect change as opposed to the old way of the aggressive masculine needing to be right by forcefully imposing upon others what you may have thought was right.

What is transpiring now through the process of beingness and opening your heart space to give and receive love, is the feminine energy rising through love and compassion and assertively bringing this out to the world.

As the masculine aspects of yourself are healing, your feminine aspects can combine with your healed masculine. Many of the masculine gender are learning to open their heart to receive love and be more compassionate with themselves. Those of the feminine gender are doing the same because of the old paradigm of their wounding and conditioning was the need to keep up with the masculine. What those of the feminine gender are finding now as they move into their truth and the beingness of who they are, is the powerfulness of their feminine energy. They are finding as well, the powerfulness of compassion, love and receiving. By then combining this with the assertive masculine energy and moving forward out into the world is how you can affect change.

It is not about moving out aggressively to forcefully tell others who you are, what you think, what is important to you and what you think is right. It is about opening your heart space to compassion, to love and assertively bringing this out to the world that will allow others to hear your message with love.

When you move out into the world with assertive, compassionate energy, it allows others to open their heart space to receive and gives them the freedom to be who they are. This is the shift of the feminine rising in your world today. It is not only rising in those of the feminine gender but in the masculine gender as well.

This is the reason why We continually ask you to move into your truth of peace, love, community, harmony and equality so you can move into your beingness of who you are and assertively bring that out to the world with love and compassion for others. This will move you into community, a collective and all inclusiveness.

By opening your heart space to assert yourself out into the world with compassion and love, you can see others for who they are, and see through their mask to their essence. This will allow them the safety to open their heart. It is important to see the old masculine energy of aggression, of pushing energy at others that creates a wall and resistance to the pushing of the aggressive masculine. It is important to know that this needs to shift and is shifting now in many.

It is important now to be assertive with your compassion and love for others.