

Archangel Michael Speaks Channeled by Jeff Fasano

A Message for May 2021

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are now moving through new parameters in your life and in your daily life. You are now moving into your month of May, a month of fruition, newness and releasing the old. Releasing the old has been a common theme as We have been coming to you from time to time. Many now are fully releasing the old in their life and in doing so are in an in between period in their life. Not quite sure what is transpiring where they are in their life and in many ways feeling somewhat disillusioned with life. This is because they are experiencing a newness in life, a newness within themselves and they are opening up to this newness. Yet, they must move through an incubation period of that newness.

Many in your month of May are moving through a rebirth into the depth and breadth of who they truly are and their truth. Moving into a new depth of loving, honoring and valuing themselves more deeply than they ever have by making choices and decisions that champion their highest good. What is transpiring in your month of May is you are moving deeper within the depth and breadth of your heart space. Moving to a greater depth of detaching yourself energetically from the third dimensional realm. Fully releasing your attachments to the third dimensional realm outside of you.

Many who have looked outside of themselves for the stimulation, the gratification and the titillation of the nervous system are finding that this no longer exists in their life now. So they are not quite sure what is transpiring within themselves and moving into a place of solitude. Not isolation and separation, for that is the old habit, pattern and behavior that just subsides everything within you. It is a place of solitude and for many a much needed place where they can regroup their energy and themselves and move into a newness in the rebirth in the month of May. So it is most important now that you are moving into your month of May in 2021 is to move into this place and begin to see your choices.

What is also transpiring now in your month of May is deeper feelings are surfacing for many who are choosing to release the old wounding and conditioning and all that no longer serves them. Doing this so they can move into the rebirth of who they truly are and their mission and purpose in this lifetime. Moving into the full beingness of they are. Many have learned great lessons over the last few months of your year about their old habits, patterns, rituals and behaviors. Many have learned great lessons about who they are. Many have encountered wonderful and most glorious souls who have come into their life and become the trigger point for the rebirth into themselves. Learning more within the depth and breadth of themselves.

In many ways you can look at the relationships that have served you in these last few months from the beginning of your year of 2021 to now in your month of May. Look at the relationships that have served you to grow, to move into the full beingness of self, to learn more about your old habits, patterns, rituals and behaviors. To move into the depth and breadth of your wounding from mom and dad. You can also see how this great love is revealing these aspects within them as well.

Your month of May is somewhat a celebration that you are now rebirthing into the new that will begin to take place in the second half of your year beginning in your month of June. Your month of May is a rebirth into the depth and breadth of the truth of yourself as you continue to look at your attachments to the third dimensional realm outside of you. Many are looking at the validation, gratification and excitement in your life. Looking outside of you for the meaning of life and the meaning of you. Looking outside for the meaning, value and purpose of life for you. This as We have said many times before comes from within.

It is now a full release of your attachments to the third dimensional realm. Detaching energetically from the low, dense vibrational aspects of the third dimensional realm outside of you. This leads to creating a new collective consciousness within you that can begin to create a new collective consciousness with those who you may be shifting relationships with or forming new relationships.

It is about finding the resources within you and outside of you with those who resonate and vibrate at a level as you do and on the same pathway as you in the spiritual sense of your beingness. What we mean by the spiritual sense is moving to multi-dimensional realms and entertaining those energies that are moving in full force into your earthly plain in this month of May. Many of these energies are moving within to fortify the depth and breadth of the truth of who you are.

What is transpiring now for many is they are forming a new identity of who they are that is based in the true beingness of who you are. So in many ways you might feel you are not yourself any longer. You may not have an identity. What is transpiring in your life no longer excites you or gives you that sense of excitement. This is because you are releasing your attachments to the third dimensional realm of gratification and validation. You are now moving within the depth and breadth of your heart space to the full beingness of self. Many are finding themselves in a stationary aspect within themselves. Not wanting or feeling that they need to do anything in their life. In many ways, simply being. Simply being who they are.

You are in a period of time reforming your identity of self. Who are you? Who were you? And where are you now?

Many are now beginning to fully release their attachments to the wounding of the wounded child. Many now are differentiating between the child and the adult. Many are just individuating from mom and dad. Many are now moving into the full adult self and making choices from the adult self not from the wounded child perspective. Moving to a greater sense of We Consciousness where there is no longer an obligation to the We but simply a choice to create We Consciousness. There is a difference. Many are moving out of their obligations, doing what they think they are obligated to do. Remaining in relationships through a sense of obligation where it is important to take care of that other in the relationship.

Many are now seeing these old habits, patterns, rituals and behaviors and this is shifting the beingness of self and the fiber of their being. This is what We mean moving from the old into the new.
