

Archangel Michael Speaks

Channeled by Jeff Fasano

A Message for November 2021

A Time to Build, Fortify and Strengthen

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are opening up to new parameters in your life and opening up to new avenues of your greatness and wonderfulness of self. You are moving into a new groundedness of self as you move along the pathway in this moment of time and a period of releasing, death and dying. You have exited your month of October where you began the process of releasing and now moving into the last two months of your year your 2021 then move into the year of 2022 which will move you into the fruition of the new self. If in fact you choose to move into a new self.

So as you move into your month of November then into your month of December then into the end of your year of 2021, many will be closing many doors to the old in your life, the old habits, patterns, rituals and behaviors. You will then begin to realize and see that it is old.

What is most important to understand is that many do not realize that their patterns, habits and behaviors are from the past. It is about devising a new way of understanding that and reconciling that, then opening up to a new way of living as the adult in the present time of now.

It is now about taking a deeper dive within the self and seeing if you so choose what is important to release in your life to see where you might be mired in your old behaviors. Quite possibly using them as an excuse from moving forward and having the life you say you want. We have mentioned to you many times before there is a difference in the life you say you want and the life you are living now.

These last three months of your year of 2021 and now moving into your month of November is the mid point of this process of release, death and dying. It is most important now if you choose to have the life you say you want and moving into the full consciousness of self, it is now about diving deeper within the depth and breadth of you to illuminate the old habits, patterns, rituals and behaviors that hold you in a place from not having the life you say you want.

It is now about taking full responsibility. It is now about fully reparenting the wounded child. Quite possibly it is now time to allow your-self to have that life but come to the reconciliation that you just might be utilizing your old habits, patterns, rituals and behaviors as an excuse to hold you in a place where you are comfortable and feel safe though you may not like it.

We have said to you many times before that many of you have a life you say you want. You have what you say you want and what you would like to manifest. And looking back on that now many times have you said:

This is the life I say I want.

This is what I'd like to manifest.

Yet it hasn't manifested or you are still living in your life yearning after the life you say you want.

As you move into your month of November it is now time to take deeper dive within to fully look at your behaviors, habits and rituals. See if you have been in a deep rooted blind spot, holding on to those patterns, habits, rituals and behaviors because you feel safe within it.

What is transpiring now in your last three months and now your last two months of your year of 2021 is a time to break free of the old. It is why We ask you time and time again to look at the third dimensional world around you and what is transpiring in it. Look at what is old. Look at the illusions of the third dimensional realm that hold you in that place, the depth and breadth of fear in the wounded child. We have said many times before that what is transpiring in the world outside of you is preying upon the wounds of that child. Instilling fear in the wounded child that keeps that child looking for mom and dad to pull them out of it. That wounded child only knows death or life, life or death.

What you see transpiring in the world around you, as We have said many times before, is the perpetration of life or death. If you do this you will live. If you don't do this you will die. This is what is being perpetrated within the illusion of the third dimensional realm and always has. This is why it is so important to dive deeper within to see if this resonates for you. To see if what is transpiring in the world is directly affecting you and the life you live.

Are you an autonomous, individuated adult moving to a higher level of consciousness that leaves the perception of the world outside of you and sees it through the eyes of the conscious adult that you are? An adult that makes your own choices, taking responsibility for your-self and moving to a greater depth of loving, honoring and valuing you.

Or, are you subservient to what is transpiring in the world outside of you? Do you look at what is transpiring in the world and take the orders from those around you that says, If you do this you will live and if you do this you will die? Thus instilling fear within you that is perpetrated on the wounded child. The target is the wounded child. And this is why We have come to you over and over again with these messages and lessons and teachings to move within and begin to heal the wounds of the child. Re-parent that child so you can move as the individuated adult leaving mom and dad behind. Leaving the blame and shame of mom and dad behind.

You are here, moving into your month of November in your year of 2021. This is where you are. You are no longer that wounded child. Yet embrace that child because that child is a part of you. Yet, what is leading your life is the past, the history of that wounded child. And why now We ask you to move deeper within the depth and breadth of your heart space and begin to see this. Raise your awareness and consciousness to the individuated adult you are in this time-space continuum in your month of November in the year of 2021. This is the moment of now. This is where you are.

We are not saying to negate what is transpiring with the wounded child. No, this is a part of you. But it is time to differentiate between you, where you are now as the adult and the wounded child. Begin to embrace that wounded child. But begin to create new behaviors that allow you to stay present in the moment of now and move forward through your month of November into December then gallantly into the end of your year of 2021 as the individuated adult that you are to have the life you say you want. To have everything you have always said you wanted.

It is now about creating new behaviors for your-self that when the wounded child is looking at the past, looking at mom and dad, you now can take a hold of that child and face it forward and towards the life you say you want.

Are you mired in your history? Or are you now ready to gallantly move forward into the end of your year of 2021. Release what you need to release in the present of now. Release the attachments to the illusion of the third dimensional. Release old relationships that no longer transpire in the realm of your new consciousness, your new awareness consciousness. The consciousness that is at a high level and vibration.

As we have been saying all along, it is about creating a new collective consciousness. Is that consciousness going to be of a higher vibration where you are unattached to the third dimensional realm outside of you. More so you are unattached to anything or anyone in your life right now.

It is about standing in the solitude and the greatness and powerfulness of who you are.

Look into the mirror. See who you are. See what you have become in your life. See who you have become in your life right now. Open your eyes to the gloriousness of the self. Open your eyes to the gloriousness of life. For it is not all doom and gloom. It may appear that way through the illusion of what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm, if you attach your-self to it. It is not all doom and gloom and it doesn't have to be. It doesn't have to be for you. It is simply creating a new collective consciousness with those who vision this for themselves as well.

Who raises your resonance and vibration?
What raises your resonance and vibration?

It is now time as you move into your month of November and into your month of December to continue the process of releasing. And through that process moving through the death and the dying of the old. This is what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm outside of you.

If in fact what is transpiring in the world outside of you intrigues you, look at where many are perpetrating the illusions of the third dimensional realm and holding on tightly to the old world of form. Look at the illusions, look at the folly and calamity of it.

You are the individuated adult who can now create new behaviors that will allow you to simply, when that wounded child is mired looking in the past, take that child and loving turn that child around, holding that child hand in hand and move forward to the life you say you want.