A Message for 2022

A year of Re-Engagement

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are now moving in your grandness, greatness and wonderfulness and moving into various new parameters in your life as you are shifting and changing within the molecular structure of your physical beingness. You are moving into the new as you moved through the last three months of your year 2021 and now moving into your year of 2022 as the new you.

If you took part in the series We came to you with in the period of time from your month of October through your month of December, releasing and letting go and moving into the death and dying of that, you have moved into a place of a full realization of your old habits, patterns rituals and behaviors. And your full realization of your attachments to the third dimensional realm outside of you.

You are moving into an autonomous adult and into the depth and breadth of your heart space in the grandness and greatness of self. So you can now move into your new year as the brand new you where you are unattached to what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm. Now standing in the autonomous and uniqueness of self and opened up your consciousness to your behaviors that hold you in a place of lack, limitation and quite possibly struggling to survive life. Now seeing perhaps where you are isolating and separating your-self from others. Also seeing the judgment and shame of self. Now when seeing all of this putting it all together in the depth and breadth of the adult.

You have learned and seen where the wounded child has run your life from time to time. And now as you have seen all of this within yourself and moved into a place of acceptance and compassion of this within your-self you can look at an other and see where they are in their wounding and defense pattern in their blind spot with compassion and acceptance. Within this there is a greater acceptance and compassion of self and others as well. This is how you can move into your new year of 2022 and begin to re-engage with others from a new perspective of self.

Your year of 2022 is a re-engagement with others. A re-engagement with the world outside of you from a new autonomous place where you have brought to the light your attachments to the third dimensional realm. Seen the illusions of it and now move into a place of autonomy where you are now in the powerfulness of the self, unattached to the third dimensional realm. Raising your resonance and vibration to see what is outside of you that no longer resonates for you and what resonates.

What resonates for you now is re-engaging and moving with those who are on a similar if not that same pathway as you. You are now ready in many ways more ready than you ever have been before to re-engage with others who are resonating and vibrating with you to begin to form a new collective consciousness. Deepening as well the roots of your soul family by looking past the blind spots, the wounding, the defense systems, and seeing the ethnicity of the divine self. This is the Christ Consciousness in each and every one of you.

In many ways your year of 2022 is a year of re-engagement. Re-engaging with those outside of you who resonate and vibrate with you.

In the past, you may have said, those wonderful and most glorious souls vibrate with me. If you partook in the three month process that began in your month of October in 2021 and allowed what was revealed within you to die and moved through the mourning period to now open to the oneness of self, what is within you now is an emptiness. You have emptied out the old, healed the old, seen your attachments and in many ways now stand as an empty vessel. Not so much needing to fill up the empty vessel but to replenish it with the goodness of self and others with a high vibrational energy.

In many ways you have released the old dense, low vibrational energy inside of you which is encrusted in the old habits, patterns rituals and behaviors. As you have done this you create a void within you and now feeling a bit empty. For those who have engaged in the process and consciously released and let go of that which no longer serves you, your old behaviors, relationships that no longer resonate for you and your attachments to the third dimensional realm you now stand in an autonomous state as an adult. And it is now that you can differentiate between the behaviors of wounded child in order to survive life, you move into the place of the adult and your life is being driven by that adult. You are bringing the wounded child with you because you will get reminders from time to time where you still are on the pathway of self mastery.

As you move into your year of 2022, a year of re-engagement, you are re-engaging with the world outside of you in the newness of you. Engaging from a more aware and conscious place where you are now opening up to the bright light inside of you and then see that bright light in those outside of you.

Yet what is most important now as you move into 2022 in the place of the autonomous adult, a unique adult standing in its greatness and powerfulness, you now raise your level of discernment. Doing this from a place of power, oneness and fully knowing, honoring and valuing you. It is not about doing this coming from a place of defense or fear, you are now owning the depth and breadth of who you are. Then moving to a greater depth of discernment in the relationships you are having outside of you. Choosing with greater discernment the pathway you are leading. Not from a place of fear or from your defense where you may isolate and separate and think you are discerning from the autonomous adult, a place of powerfulness. What We mean by powerfulness is a greater sense of knowing who you are. A greater sense of honoring and valuing and loving who you are and knowing with a greater level of consciousness and awareness your old behaviors that hold you in the old that create the defense systems.

As you move into the year of 2022 and open that doorway because it is not so much the doorway opening for you is what doorways do you want to open. What are the doorways you want to open in 2022? What are the doorways that you choose to open as the doorway of 2022 opens for you and now can walk on the pathway and see that pathway into 2022 as an empty blank canvas? You walk through that doorway and re-engage with life, re-engage with others from a new perspective of you.

Your year of 2022 is a year of re-engagement with those outside of you, with the world outside of you from a place of powerfulness. Where when your defense comes to the fore you are aware of it now. You have raised your consciousness and awareness through the last three months of 2021 to a greater consciousness and awareness of self if you engaged in that process.

So now, what are you engaging in? What are you ready to engage in in your year of 2022?

As your year of 2022 unfolds you will see many of the same things happen as you have in 2020 and 2021. You will see this in the world outside of you. But it is now how you are engaging with it or not engaging with it. You will see much of the same happen in 2022 that has happened in 2020 and 2021 more so at the beginning of your year of 2022.

As you move through the first three months of 2022 much of the same will appear to you. This is because your first three months of 2022 is a re-engagement process of you into the new you. It is an assimilation process of you being the new you and walking out into the world and navigating that world. In many ways as you walk through the year of 2022 in the first three months you will be navigating it as the new you and testing the waters of the new life you are ready to create for your-self that is based on the autonomous adult. This is something that We stress to you. The new you is based on the autonomous, powerful and unique adult where you are now conscious and aware of the difference between the wounded child and the adult.

You have raised your consciousness and awareness and it is acute at this time. In many ways you are moving through a sensitivity of this and thus the reason why your first three months of 2022 will be a period of navigating and re-navigating life in the newness of your-self.

Your month of January begins this process. And what We suggest for you is not to burst forward into your new year of 2022 but if in fact you do that it is all well and good yet being with what transpires when you do.

As the doorway opens simply walk through it with grace and ease. Walk through the doorway into 2022 with grace and ease so you now can move in symbiosis with your divine soul plan and the divine plan of the universe and the divine plan of your year of 2022. Your year of 2022 has a divine plan within its structure. It is based upon the divine plan of the universe, the divine plan of your world, your planet and your country. As you move through your year of 2022 you will see that divine plan take place. And as it takes place you can move within your own soul plan into your year of 2022. And in your first month of January We ask you to move into it with ease and grace to navigate the world outside of you with a new perspective of you. This will grow as you grow.

Your year of 2022 will be a significant growth period for each and every one of you as you move through and navigate it. In your first month of January and the door opens and you walk into the new year in a new energetic self, it is from this new energetic place where you will be testing the waters of 2022 based upon the low dense vibrational energy of the third dimensional realm.

So the first three months is a period of navigation. And you will be surprised at what transpires in the first three months and you will be tested based upon where you are. And then how you respond or react to what is transpiring in the world.

You will also see in the first three months many shifts and changes in you and many shifts and changes in the world outside of you in relationship to what is transpiring in the world right now. You will see these shifts and changes as you move through the divine plan.

As you move through the second three months of 2022 things in the world outside of you will ease. There will be an ease in the world outside of you so you can move more in symbiosis with others. So as you move through the second three months of 2022 you will see what is transpiring in the world outside of you ease where aspects of the world will shift and change. You will not move into a malaise and accept what is transpiring. It is most important that you stay in a place of powerfulness as you move through your year of 2022 and for that matter the rest of your incarnation in the human form.

It is also seeing in the second three months what is transpiring in the world may lull those into a sleep state, a believers state, a herd state. It is important for you to stay aware and conscious that this will transpire.

Then in your third three months of 2022, things will “ramp” up again things will become more “edgy”. Then as you move into the final three months of 2022 things will become more solidified. Things in the world outside of you will become more stable. But it is most important to keep your eye on the illusion in what is transpiring outside of you as you move through this.

In many ways what will transpire outside of you will be a direct reflection of what will be transpiring within you as you move through 2022. What is most important about 2022 is it is a re-engagement and how you re-engage with the new you in the world outside of you. How you re-engage with certain relationships that may come to you that need to be re-formed and restructured. Seeing where your priorities in life are.

As you move through 2022 especially in the month of January it is about looking at your priorities in your life and what is most important for you as you move into your month of January. This is because January is a month of navigation, navigating the new waters of the new year, your life and what is out there in the third dimensional realm.

As We come to a close, it is most important to keep in mind that your year of 2022 is a re-engagement. A re-engagement of the self with the world outside of you. Moving within and connecting with the Wonder child and the Magical child to see what is possible and probable in your life. It is most important as you do re-connect with the Magical and Wonder child to see the possibility and probability of life outside of you is to ask your-self the question; Is what is transpiring in the world outside of me minimizing your excitement for life? Does it affect your excitement for life? Are you giving your power away to what is transpiring in the world outside of you?

This was the basis for the three month period from October through November to the end of December of 2021. It was a process of gaining a new powerfulness, awareness and consciousness to an autonomous self. So you can move out into the world individuated in a high vibrational energy where you can see what is transpiring in the world and the illusion of it but all the while being in your soul plan and walking through it. This is because you have chosen to be in this incarnation.

There is no mistake why you have chosen to be in this incarnation in this third dimensional realm. You are here to experience what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm but most importantly you are in this world but not of it.
