A Message for May 2022 You Have Been Initiated

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are moving into a new wonderfulness of self and into a new parameter in your life, a new transition and through transformation.

As We said to you the last time We came to you, your next three months of your year of 2022 is a period of transition and transformation as you move from your month of April into your month of May. You are now in the second month of this project in your own personal affairs in your life. Many are making a transition from the old to the new. And as you move through your month of May of this metaphysical project, you are in the middle of this three month period and many are still continuing a transition from the old to the new. Yet, what is transpiring is many are in a place of inertia or in limbo as you are in the middle of moving from then old to the new. The new is the transformation that will begin to take place as you move into your month of June.

In many ways what is transpiring is a re-birthing process. A re-birthing into the new as you move out of aspects of the old, reliving aspects of the old which is part of the transition period in this time/space continuum. In many ways people are reliving aspects of the old aspects of your life, the old behaviors of your life. Reviewing those old behaviors and realizing that those old behaviors no longer work for you. Many are feeling sick and tired of being sick and tired of the old ways of doing things, the old behaviors, Yet, you are not quite sure what the new is but the most important aspect is to look at the old behaviors, see the old behaviors that you have been perpetrating in your life. See them, see how they have affected your life, how they enhanced your life and how they brought you to the place you are now as you move into your month of May, the middle part of the transition and transformation.

It is important to bless with grace where you were, what you have moved through and what it has taken to move to this place where you are now in your month of May, the middle portion of this transition and transformation process. You are here now looking to affect change in your life and this is what you can begin to celebrate. Allow your self to be in this process, to move through it in this time / space continuum as you open new doorways to move into the new.

In many ways it is about looking at your old behaviors, the old aspects of your life, what no longer works in your life and move through that to the aspects of the new that is coming to you and will come to you in your month of June. It is about opening your eyes to the old, to the new and where you are right now in this space and time in your month of May. In your month of May the transition process will continue into your month of June and will continue as you move through your year of 2022.

What we reiterate to you is to look at what is transpiring in your life right now. Look at what is transpiring in the old in your life and bless this process. Bless the process that you have been through, the process that you initiated into the path of Self Mastery. Bless the process as you bless your self as you move through this. It is not about looking at what is wrong with your life, what is empty in your life, what isn't in your life. Here you are. You are in the here and now. The moment of here and now. So as you are in the moment in the here and now, allow your self to be in the here and now. Allow your self to bask in the glow of where you are in the moment of the here and now.

It does you no good to look at the past. Yet, it is about looking at the past, not scrutinizing it. Simply looking at the past and blessing the past and what has transpired in your life up until this moment that has transported you to where you are right now. It is not so much about scrutinizing your life, looking at what you haven't done, what you should have done. It is about blessing the moment of now to see exactly where you are so you can see that you have raised your awareness and consciousness to the old behaviors. Raised your awareness and consciousness to the old self. Raised your awareness and consciousness to what is transpiring in the world outside of you in the macrocosm and what no longer resonates for you. This is because you have moved through a process of Self Mastery. You have raised your resonance and vibration. You have grown.

If you can look outside of you at what is transpiring in the world and see what resonates and what no longer does and look back at your life, quite possibly what no longer resonates for has once resonated for you. You have grown and now see that it is most important to remain in a high vibrational aspect of your self.

You have seen the illusion in relationships, of what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm outside of you and it is most important to see your self where you are now. You are shifting and changing the aspects of your self, the old relationship to the self. You are now shifting and changing the old behaviors in your life and the only way you can now make that choice as you move into your month of May is because you have grown to this point to see the illusions of the old self. To see the wounds of the child and allow your self to move into the courageousness of moving within the depth and breadth of your heart space and seeing the old wounding, the old relationships to mom and dad. Seeing all of what has brought you to this place, a greater place of health and where you are in this time/space continuum.

It is not about looking at what isn't in your life, at what you haven't done, what you should have done because what you have done has brought you this point in time in this evolutionary process you call life.

As we take our leave at this wonderful and most glorious time it is most important and We emphasize this, to connect with many wonderful and most glorious souls during this transition and transformation project. The reason why We call it a project is because it is. It is an ethereal project. It is a project that each and every one of you can take in order to move into a greater sense of honoring, valuing and loving you. In many ways this is a very important three month period in your year of 2022 as you have initiated and have been initiated.

What is most important to understand it is not so much that you have initiated, it is that you have been initiated. And why We have come to bring this information about this project to you. To initiate you into the project and bring to your awareness and consciousness to this project of transition and transformation in this three month period. Then as you come to the initiation process, it is up to you with your own free will and freedom of choice to initiate your self in the project.

Yet what is most important to understand is that many have been initiated into this three month period and may not understand why what is transpiring is transpiring. This why We have come to you to explain it. It is for those who may not understand the shifts and changes. "I am seeing my old habits, patterns and rituals and behaviors and I am not quite sure what is transpiring. I feel like I am honoring and valuing my self. I am feeling this change inside of my self, seeing the change outside of my self. I looking in the world outside of my self and realize that not much it resonating for me and not quite sure what to do. I am this place."

We come to explain what is transpiring to bring your awareness to it. And know that you have been initiated into it. We come to simply explain the process to you, move you through the process if you so choose. This is the reason and the importance of why We come to you.
