A Message for July 2022

You Are the Source

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are moving into new parameters in your life, opening up to the grandness, greatness and wonderfulness of self and moving through your new month of July and into the second half of your year of 2022. You are moving on a pathway of a greater sense of abundance, greatness and wonderfulness within the self where you are taking charge of your life and seeing that you are the source.

Your month of July is a time to open up to the depth and breadth of your heart space to see that you are the source, the source of life. You are the source of who you, your abundance, you are your abundance. It is now time to begin to see that and open up your heart space to that.

In the last three months of April May and June, We alluded to opening up your heart space to allow love in and create the space for it. In your month of July it is now about beginning that and continuing it so you can open up your life, to create space in your life for love to enter into it. Before you do this and then while you are doing it, it is now time to move in to your heart space to see that you are the source. The source does not lie outside of you, it is within you. You are the Christ Consciousness, the God Self. You are the source of who you are. And thus the creation of your life outside of your-self.

So We will reiterate this again, it is about looking outside of you and see where you are lending your self to what is transpiring outside of you in the third dimensional realm, and the illusions of the world. We have asked you this question many times before, is what is transpiring in the world outside of you dictating the way in which you live your life? Or, are you the source? Are you the source of your abundance, your wealth? Are you the source of the life you are creating? Or are you lending or giving that power away to what is transpiring in the world outside of you? And in relationships you are having outside of you?

What We brought you through in the exercises, in the project in your months of April, May and June is to see your powerfulness and bring you to a place where you are the source. You are your abundance. You are your power. And you can have and create whatever it is you say you want in the life outside of you in the world outside of you. This is why We continue to ask you look in the world outside of you and ask, what resonates and what doesn't? Are you paying attention to what does resonate or what doesn't resonate? Then opening your self to see where you are in your life right now.

So in many ways as you begin the second half of your year of 2022 in your month of July, is to now begin from the place that you are the source, your abundance, your powerfulness. You are your greatness. See your individuality, your uniqueness. It is not as if you are different than anyone else, you are a unique soul inhabiting this earthly plain that you chose to inhabit to profess that uniqueness, to shine that uniqueness. We have said this to you many times before, the emblazing white light in the depth and breadth of your heart space is now ready to shine on the world through your uniqueness. Through you being the source of that white light.

So it is now about taking back your power. Taking back your power of creation and embodying that power within you. This will begin the second half of your year of 2022. As We said when you moved into your month of April, May and June and during that process, when you move into your month of July you will see the fruition of the process. You will see as you take hold of your uniqueness, your power, take hold of who you are, and now be who you are in the world outside of you, begin to do with purpose. Begin to do in life with a new purpose, the purpose of shining your light on the world.

Release your attachments to the third dimensional realm outside of you. Where are you still attached to the third dimensional realm outside of you? Listening to what they say outside of you. This is what they say. Move into the depth and breadth of your heart space and ask, Is what they say resonating for me?

The pathway to create a new collective consciousness is to begin to detach from that which no longer resonates with you in the third dimensional realm outside of you.

See what is transpiring in the world outside of you and detaching from it. You are in this world that you created and incarnated in for a specific reason. We ask you, what is that reason? What is the reason you incarnated into this life at this time? It is now time to move deeper within the depth of your soul space to find that reason and many reasons. Then begin to do with purpose in your life.

We have brought you through many exercises and brought you to the awareness and consciousness of the inordinate doing that you perpetrated in your life to simply avoid and do because the doing was to prove to others that you are worthy and lovable. It is now through your beingness that you know you are loveable and worthy.

So as you move into your month of July and into the second half of 2022, it is about moving in and finding the reason why you are here. As you have moved through the process of refining and defining and remembering who you are, who you are being, the next step is to ask, why am I here? Why am I inhabiting this earthly plain?

So We ask you to open up your heart space to the depth and breadth of your soul space. Allow that effervescent white light to shine out into the world. Allow your energetic being to shine in the world outside of you. It is simply the energetic being of self that will cascade outside of you and affect others while you are simply being who you are.

Can you now detach from that which no longer resonates for you in the third dimensional realm? Or are you still focusing on what doesn't resonate for you? Are you focusing on the dense, low vibrational aspects of the third dimensional realm? Or are you allowing your heart space to open and create space for love to land as the love cascades outside of you? We asked you in your month of June, are you projecting love outside of you? What are you projecting to the world through your beingness, through being who you are? Are you projecting fear, angst, unsafeness or are you projecting love and power and creativeness through your uniqueness and the unique soul that you are?

It is most important to open your heart space in this month of July to begin to create a space within you as well as creating a space in the physical beingness outside of you in your physical world for love to enter. So you can see that you are loved for being exactly who you are.
