Finding Your Voice and the Power Within

From the Archangelic Realm of Michael this is Michael and We come to you as you are moving into new parameters in your life, on your earthly plain, your geographical plain and new parameters within you. In many ways what is transpiring within each and every one of you, the landscape is shifting and changing. The landscape of your life, the landscape of your physical realm and your geographical realm is shifting and changing. The landscape of your life is shifting and changing.

As you move into your month of November We harken back to when We told you about the vortex of energies that is hovering over your earthly plain. In your month of November this vortex will continue to hover over your earthly plain and remain in many ways to create a sense of peace and well being. As We said to you the last time We came to you, this is an energy of balance. An energy of equalization. This energy will hover over your earthly plain throughout your month of November and solidify itself over your earthly plain to create balance. Balance in your own personal life as well as balance of the earthly plain. Negating in many ways the shifts, the seismic shifts in the earthly plain and the seismic shifts in the wonderful and most glorious souls who inhabit your earthly plain.

These energies are moving in to create balance. Releasing the aspects of life where there is either / or, good or bad, right or wrong. The shifts in extremes. Moving from extremes in your life into balance in your life. What you are seeing played out on your earthly plain are extremes. The extremes of this or that, right or wrong, good or bad that creates imbalance in relationships and in your life. As you move deep within in your personal process, many are moving into the depth of their wounds where fear resides. Discord resides. Feeling unsafe. And this is transpiring out in the world. Many out in the world are feeling unsafe with what is transpiring in the world outside of you.

This energy that is now hovering over your earthly plain and solidifying itself over your earthly plain is about equalization and balance. Keeping your earthly plain in balance. What you will see play out in your month of November is balance coming in to equalize the balance within yourself. This energy that hovers over your earthly plain that comes from the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th dimensions is dredging up much of the old. You are seeing this played out on your earthly plain. Many are feeling this. And the reason they are seeing and feeling the old being played out is because you have chosen to move within in a personal process to balance yourself and release the old within yourself. You are now seeing that the old outside of you no longer resonates because the old within you no longer resonates. What you are doing is seeking balance. Seeking the resonance and vibration of where you are resonating and vibrating. It is important to see where you are moving into extremes within that.

Many are moving within and finding their voice, finding the powerfulness within themselves. Many are looking outside of themselves and feeling powerless in relation to what is transpiring out in the world on your earthly plain now. As you view the old of what is transpiring which is in full force on your earthly plain right now, it is important to move within yourself to regain that sense of powerfulness within you that has nothing to do with what is transpiring in the world outside of you.

If you have shifted to looking outside of yourself and that delegating your power, I feel powerless because of what is transpiring in the world outside of myself. Many are now finding the power within them to be who they are and to express the truth of who they are. That is part of what this energy is creating that is hovering over your earthly plain. In many ways you are finding a voice within you to speak that truth. And though you may feel you are in a minority of that, you aren't.

What is transpiring and what will transpire in your month of November based upon the happenstance of what is transpiring on your earthly plain is many are finding that voice of the new. Finding the voice of the new, not the old. And you will be finding that voice rising throughout your month of November, moving into your month of December and into the new year of 2025.

It is important to find that voice within you. That powerful voice within you. The voice of the adult. It is the adult who has the voice of reason. It is the adult who has the voice of peace, community, harmony and equality. What you are seeing transpiring in your third dimensional realm right now might seem to be the antithesis of that. It is to see within yourself if you are creating that outside of you based upon your soul plan. As We have said many times before, what is transpiring on your earthly plain in your universal plain is destined in the soul plan of it. This is what is transpiring for each and every one of you. Because these energies from the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th dimensions that are now hovering over your earthly plain are intended to bring balance and equalization into your life and into what is transpiring in your third dimensional realm.

Find your power within yourselves. What is the power within you as you shed the old layers of wounding surrounding your heart space? Opening your heart space, not so much outside of you but to you to rise above the low vibrational energies of your third dimensional realm. Moving into a life of multi-dimensionality. Rising above the low vibrational energies of your third dimensional realm. That is the power within each and every one of you. For there is no either / or, right or wrong, good or bad. There are no extremes though it may feel that way right now.

Each and every one of you are moving to extremes within yourself. We use the diagram of a pendulum swinging from right to left. What you are seeking is to move that pendulum into the middle in balance. But many are swinging wildly from left to right as they move through the process within themselves and finding the power within themselves and finding that voice of power within themselves. Many are finding that right now. Many will find it more acutely as you move into your month of November into your month of December as these energies from the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th dimensions solidify themselves on your earthly plain to create balance and equalization. In many ways it is about moving to your sensibility of love, community, harmony, peace and equality that resides in you. See where you are creating the extremes with others outside of you. Ask yourself why is it important for me to shift and change and release relationships that has nothing to do with what is transpiring in the third dimensional realm. It all has to do with what you are resonating and vibrating with inside of you as you rise above the low, dense vibration of the earthly plain as you remain inhabited on your earthly plain that you have chosen to be in in this incarnation in the human form.

Rise above the fray in the all loving aspects of yourself by being who you are. It is most important as you move into your month of November to remember it is about balance and equalization that you will see transpire in your third dimensional realm as you move through your month of November into your month of December and into your year of 2025.

As we take our leave at this wonderful and most glorious time, allow the energies that are hovering over your earthly plain to begin to do its work. Find a balance and equalization within yourself. Make your choices based upon resonance and vibration. Make your choices based upon moving within and asking yourself, does it resonate or does it not resonate? What relationships resonate? Move in to look at the extremes in your life at this time. But it is about you and moving through what is transpiring on your earthly plain right now and how it is affecting you in the depth and breadth of the being of you.
